'Wagonmaster' Gets Tremendous Welcome

By WILLARD S. RANDALL
(Mercury Staff Writer)

You couldn't get a cup of coffee in Salisbury, Md., Wednesday morning.

In fact, there wasn't much of anything you could get, or do, or very far you could go, in or around the 17,000 population Eastern shore city.

And it all was because of a Pottstown area man.

The bulk of the city's police department was parked at the city limits, waiting for a visitor.

Stores, businesses, restaurants and schools were closed. The local municipal hall was deserted. Even the main switchboard of the town was left untended, and anything but local calls ran into a dead end.

Why? Was the town the target of a bombing? Or was everybody taking an early dip in the nearby Atlantic ocean?

No. A sportily clad man at the reins of two tired horses was approaching the city limits.

Warren C. Holden, celebrated "pioneer" from Pottstown RD 1, was guiding his two horses, Rosie and Major, and his 75 year old covered wagon, over U.S. Route 50 from Mardella Springs to Salisbury on the 10th day of

State Takes A Hint

—Mercury Staff Photo

Mercury photos picturing the perilous obstruction created by these large State Highway department signs on North Charlotte street were successful in removing the hazard. Two of three "warning signs" blocking motorists' vision at Mervine street and Route 663 have been moved down the highway — north — to a point shown here, some 25 feet away from the intersection. Gary Kalis, 1277 North Charlotte street, examines the signs which have remained on the highway through the Winter and Spring, although final macadam paving work still is not underway. A third sign remains at Mervine street, but does not block the view down the hill.

Board Acclaims Choice of New Chief Librarian

The board of directors of Pottstown Public library voiced unanimous acclaim Wednesday night for the appointment of Harold R. Jenkins, native Pottstonian and master librarian, as the new chief librarian.

At a special meeting of the board in the 415 High street library building at 7 o'clock, the selection of Jenkins was ratified and the $7000 salary approved.

The board also received the monthly librarian's report from Miss Gloss. The report listed 6839 books in circulation for the month of April, and 125 registrations. Gifts were received from the Auxiliary of Knights Templar, Eleanor Cornmesser, Joseph R. Daegele, the Pottstown Group of Alcoholics Anonymous, Herbert Quinter, Mrs. Edith Schulz, Elwood Schmearer, and Emily Yocom.

In other business, preliminary plans for the new building were submitted to the board by Sanders and Bixler, architects. The plans call for a building 60 feet wide and 128 feet long. With a basement, the building will have 15,380 square feet.

"The entire board and everyone connected with the library was elated by Jenkins' choice", Thomas F. Storm, board president said.

"This man is one of the best young workers in the library field. We are overjoyed at his decision to come to Pottstown".

STORM AND J. Harold Yocom, chairman of the library's building committee, shared the view Jenkins' choice was "the best thing to happen to the library in its 41 year history".

"I was elated when I heard Jenkins was considering taking over the library in the Fall. He's just the man we need to turn an outdated library into a thriving, progressive informa-

FREDA GLOSS THRILLED AT APPOINTMENT

Recalls Jenkins' Use Of Library As Boy

The announcement Harold R. Jenkins, 43 year old Pottstown native, was named Tuesday as the new chief librarian, filled the heart of one familiar library hand with "gratification and joy".

Freda Gloss, head librarian of the old Pottstown Public library since one year after it opened in 1922, termed his appointment "the best news I've had in years".

Miss Gloss, who has known Jenkins since he was a little boy spending almost every spare moment reading and helping out at the 415 High street building, explained her happiness this way:

"It's rare and wonderful when a big, strong boy like Harry will spend so much time around a library.

"But when this boy came in day after day for years, I got the feeling he would oneday make the library his life's work", she said.

"I don't remember in my 38 years here at the library ever

$800 IN FEES GAINED FROM HANDLERS

Increase Noted Following Series

More than $800 was collected since the borough began charging a $1 fee for food handlers permits last June, Health Officer Benjamin C. Steele reported Wednesday.

Less than one-third of the money was collected during the seven months of 1960 after the ordinance was passed, Steele said, and the rest in the first four-and-a-half months of 1961.

The ordinance was passed on May 16, 1960, to cover the printing and handling costs of the permits, but the first food handler wasn't charged until June, Steele said. During the first month only $7 was collected.

During the remaining months of 1960, the number of permits issued — and money collected — averaged $40 — with a high of 55 permits in September and a low of 32 permits in October. The total permits issued between June and Dec. 31 was 244.

So far this year 568 permits were issued and fees collected, Steele noted. The breakdown by months shows:

Feb.	23
March	163
April	170
To May 23	59

Latin American Unionists To Get Borough Welcome

Pottstown is a popular place for visitors from foreign lands.

When 34 exchange students left after a two day visit in 1955 they called the borough "a wonderful place to live."

When 61 exchange students completed a one-month tour of the eastern United States in 1958 with a weekend in Pottstown, they left singing the praises of their "kind and considerates hosts."

When three Somalian students of government studied the borough in 1959, they praised the "fine and effective system of government."

And when the American Field service arranged a trip to the borough for 69 foreign high school graduates, it was because the borough "always rates high with visitors because the hospitality is so warm and friendly."

THIS YEAR'S foreign visitors —if they receive the same welcome afforded in the past— should leave singing more praises of the borough.

The visitors are six trade unionists who will spend five days beginning Monday in Pottstown seeing just what makes an American town tick. The six— trade unionists from Latin America—are being sponsored by the State department and the Department of Labor in a program of international cooperation designed to promote a better understanding of the American way of life.

Walter E. Sanford, labor adviser to the Labor department, explained that "Pottstown was chosen because the trade unionists want to see an American city at work — not only from the outside, but from the inside."

"Our experience in the past shows that Pottstown is willing to provide this—to let the vis-

TRAINS FAIL TO SOUND HORN, MAN CHARGES

Businessman Works Near Scene of Fatal Crash

Pennsylvania Railroad trains approaching the Squirrel Hollow road crossing do not consistently sound whistles, a businessman near the controversial danger-spot told The Mercury Wednesday.

Matthew Cappelletti, who manufactures pre-cast concrete steps at a shop along Route 422 in Douglass (Berks) township, stated that he believes great danger exists for motorists crossing the Pennsylvania tracks because of this.

Cappelletti, who heard from nearby the June 15, 1960 train-truck crash which set off public protests for safety precautions at the crossing, recalled the day.

He said on that occasion, when Charles W. Good Sr., 36 year old Pottstown laborer, was killed, a PRR engine seemed to

Sunniest Day Sets Trend

The sunniest day in more than a month brought renewed Spring to Pottstown Wednesday and sent temperatures spiraling some 11 degrees above the predicted high.

Pottstown had 100 percent of sunshine, according to Weather bureau measurements. The last 100 percent day was April 20. And the sunny, warming trend is expected to continue today.

The first sign that things were going to warm up came early Wednesday morning, about the time the sun came up. The thermometer fell only to 52, several degrees above the low of the preceding morning.

From its low point, the mercury moved steadily to a high of 79 degrees by 6 p. m. and stayed in the 70s till midnight.

The day was one of the few

SIX RESIDENTS ARE ORDERED TO CUT WEEDS

Borough Begins Annual Spring Clampdown

Six more Pottstown residents were ordered Wednesday to clear the weeds from their properties or face fines ranging from $25 to $100.

The six brought to 18 the number of warnings issued by Building Inspector Lewis J. Kirby and Health Officer Benjamin C. Steele since the campaign started Monday.

The 18 were given ten days to clear the weeds or face a minimum fine of $25, Kirby explained. He said the warnings were issued following complaints from residents or personal inspections by him or Steele.

"In many cases people call in about conditions in their neighbor's yard or in vacant lots," Kirby explained. "We investigate those and if the complaint is valid, then warnings are issued. We also tour the borough ourselves to check conditions."

THE WARNING reads: "I have been instructed to notify the owner of the property located at ——— to remove weeds as required by ordinance passed by council, approved by burgess, and advertised as required by law, a copy of which appears below." It is signed by either

St. Paul's Honors Deacon For 57 Years of Service

When Wilson A. Christman was born, St. Paul's United Church of Christ did not exist, and Pottstown ended at Beech street.

When he was made deacon of his church in 1905, there was no television and few cars. The name of his church has changed, pastors have come and gone, but Wilson Christman is still deacon.

This 57 year service of one man to his church was honored Wednesday night in a surprise dinner at St. Paul's United Church of Christ.

"The life of Wilson Christman, and the life of his church go hand in hand," said the Rev. William C. Ebbert, pastor of the church.

WHEN CHRISTMAN, who lives at Pottstown RD 3, entered the church Wednesday night, he was expecting a "Christian Fellowship Dinner." Instead, as the Rev. Ebbert noted, it was a "Christman Fellowship Dinner."

Dressed nattily and looking youthful with his deep tan and silver-gray hair, Christman seemed to marvel at the number of people—130—doing him

Beauty Shop Owner Ready For Court Fight

An East End beauty shop owner will ignore a borough directive to close down his business by June 1 in the first step toward protesting and fighting a planning committee decision that operation of the salon violates zoning laws.

Albert D. Derecola, who does business with his wife Joanne at 247 North Price street as "Sparky and Joanne's," received a registered letter Tuesday from Borough Zoning Administrator Lewis J. Kirby, ordering the shop to cease operations within 10 days.

"We're just going to continue. The next move is up to the borough," said Derecola.

"Then we'll just have to arrest them," commented Assist-

Small Additions To Sewer Setup To Be Ended

The highway-sewer committee voted Wednesday night to end the "piecemeal addition" of homes in the three Pottsgroves to the borough sewage system.

Senior High School Closes Science Gap

The scope of science study at Pottstown High school is becoming more universal, in the truest sense of the word.

So universal, in fact, that the physics, chemistry or biology pupil of five years ago hardly would recognize his course if he returned to class today.

The change in the study of science was pointed up Wednesday with an announcement by Senior High School Principal Stanley I. Davenport Jr. that biology laboratory study will be available for the first time in the Fall for college preparatory pupils.

The two hour double period of laboratory study will round out the Senior High school laboratory program, since such study has been available for many years in physics and chemistry.

The addition of a biology laboratory is merely the latest development in a major overhaul of the science curriculum of the past five years, an overhaul designed to keep pupils up ot date with the great scientific advances of the past two decades.

"We have gone beyond traditional theories of teaching a certain limited knowledge," said Karl H. Schumacher, head of the science department of both the Junior and Senior High schools.

"Now we're bringing the pupil into new concepts of science-atomic chemistry, nuclear energy—and at a level that a high school pupil can understand."

The greatest changes so far have come in physics and chemistry, the department head ex-

Young Pupils To Be Pacemakers in Tomorrow's March of Science

Chemistry teacher Karl H. Schumacher demonstrates the use of a pH meter to Pottstown High school pupil Margaret Peck, 381 State street, in the photo at left. The meter, which electronically measures the degree of acidity or alkilinity of any water solution, is one of the modern pieces of equipment used in the school's up to date science program. To the left of the meter is a magnetic stirrer, an electronic device for measuring the conductivity of a solution in water. At the extreme left is a crystalattice, representing the electronic arrangement of a particle of sodium chloride. In the center photo, James Stephens, 262 Manatawny street, holds a Bunsen burner to heat a chemical solution in a glass alembic, a specially designed distilling apparatus. At right, Sylvia Kissinger, 49 West Ninth street, pours from a test tube into a flask at the modern chemistry laboratory.

Ordinary window glass is colored. If a pane of glass is held toward the light and looked at edgewise, the glass will appear faintly greenish because of minute quantities of iron in it.

"FIVE OR more years ago relatively little was known, or accepted, in teaching about electronic structure or matter. Much has been done since to make clearer, more understandable the reasons for the behavior of matter."

Much of the science being taught today is comparable to that taught first in college introductory courses approximately five years ago, Schumacher said. Much of the chemistry deals with the relationship of elements. Much of the physics is built around the revelations of physical law brought by discovery of nuclear energy.

The broadening of curriculum has meant corresponding changes in the parts played by the teacher and the textbook, Schumacher said. Now study revolves more around the instructor and the textbook has become more of a source of material than a guide for study.

The pupil is expected to take notes on the teacher's instruction and lecture, although not as frequently as in the average college class. And the pupil who wants to learn chemistry or physics or biology at Pottstown High is expected to use more than one book for gleaning his material.

THE STUDY of modern science requires mechanical equipment, some of it expensive. "We have just about reached our present limit of buying things we can use, short of some items that are too expensive for any high school to purchase.

The National Defense Education act, which matches Federal funds with local school district funds used to buy science and other equipment, has helped some. "And the school board has been very liberal and appreciative of the need for materials and equipment in keeping with modern science teaching," Schumacher said.

Expensive models of atoms, detailed and costly models of biological structures, spectroscopes, microscopes, centrifuges, acid testing machines that work electronically, an AC-DC motor generator — all are available to the Pottstown pupil of science.

The biology laboratory will have a 120 square foot hothouse and a refrigerator for preserving specimens of animals for dissecting.

THE SPREAD of scientific study has included all grades, for even elementary pupils are taught some science in conjunction with other subjects. Pottstown Senior has a science staff of four, soon to be five. Biology, a requisite for all pupils, will require a third teacher next Fall to join with Clarence Yocum and Elizabeth Albert. Willard Sensenig will continue alone with physics and Schumacher with chemistry, since both courses are electives and usually taken only by college preparatory pupils.

But the expansion will continue, Schumacher suggested. He hopes the school soon will offer an "Earth-Space" course, dealing specifically with the facts and theory of earth and space and with the problems of travel and survival in space.

"There is a need for study of astro - chemistry, astro - physics and astro-biology," Schumacher said. "Science is always developing. Schools have to develop along with it."

Resident Attends Tokyo Meeting

A retired Pottstown Machine company official is attending the Rotary International annual convention in Tokyo, Japan.

Herbert S. Eades, 351 Highland road, who retired three years ago after 31 years as general manager of the company, is attending the two week meeting as representative of the local Rotary club.

Eades and his wife, Anne, are making the Tokyo stopover as part of a two months tour of the Far East. They visited Hawaii, the Philippine islands, Hong Kong and Macao before flying to Japan.

The local man was president of the Pottstown club in 1932 and 1933, and was a member of the organization since 1927.

ant Borough Solicitor Ronald H. Reynier, when told by The Mercury of Derecola's stand.

DERECOLA'S MAIN protests are:

Only one person, Borough Assessor Horace Y. Seidel, personally complained about the beauty shop operation in a residential neighborhood. Mrs. Derecola polled neighbors and claims no other resident in the entire area is opposed to the business.

The Zoning Board of Adjustment, on November 27, 1951, at the time the Derecolas occupied their new home, granted permission for the couple to "operate a beauty shop on the premises of 247 North Price street." With no strings attached.

The planning committee, in ordering the Derecolas to close the shop, determined that since there are employes working at the beauty salon now, it no longer is a "home occupation," and according to the zoning ordinance, is illegal in an R-1 (next to top-flight) residential neighborhood.

Derecola states, "I never heard the term 'home occupation' until last year, after Mr. Seidel started off this protest."

Derecola has maintained steadfastly that when he was granted permission to "operate a beauty shop," it meant just that. He was never advised that the operation was to be restricted to himself and his wife.

Attorney Matthew Santangelo was retained by the Derecolas. Derecola stated that he intends to take the case into court, if necessary.

"If the borough can give a businessman permission to operate, in a legitimate hearing, then ten years later come back—at one man's insistence—and close you down, then every little businessman in town is affected," Derecola said.

Stowe Lions Elect Officers

Officers were elected for the coming year at a meeting of the Stowe Lions club Wednesday night.

Elected were: Peter Dori, president; William Regan, first vice president; Dominic Paolucci, second vice president; Fred Stein Jr., third vice president; Robert Stauffer, secretary; Michael Hospador Jr., treasurer; Harold Rickert, tail twister; and Delmar Egolf, lion tamer.

Nicholas Colasanti and Albert Fontana were also elected to two year terms as directors.

In other business, the club made plans for Ladies night to be conducted June 14 at the Elks' home. At this time, Tilmond K. Hauseman, governor elect of the Lions organization, will install the newly elected officers.

'Wagonmaster' Gets

his "prairie schooner" journey.

The populace of the bustling semi-Southern city got first "wind" of his arrival from The Mercury 10 days ago. They've been making preparations for it ever since.

POLICE CHIEF William J. Chatham called his assistants into conference the past Friday and decided to assign a special police escort to the "wagonmaster" from one city limit to the other.

Mayor Boyd McLerndon conferred Monday with other top city officials to line up a reception for the widely publicized visitor.

When they learned Holden was a native of nearby Berlin, they decided to go all out in their efforts. Civic associations were alerted. They too decided to do their part.

Finally, Salisbury Junior Chamber of Commerce President Richard B. Wootten met with Chamber Vice Presidents Warren Boyce and John Culver to plan a civic reception.

A special delegation of Salisbury civic, government and church leaders was selected to greet Holden when he arrived in the city.

BUT THEY couldn't even wait. Tuesday night they drove 18 miles north of Salisbury to the hamlet of Mardella Springs to issue an initial greeting.

And they weren't the only ones. Over 1000 residents of Cambridge (where Holden was greeted earlier Tuesday by some 5000 residents) and Salisbury were at the 58 year old stroke victim's campsite.

Around a glowing campfire, they cavorted with Holden's playful Shetland puppy, Buppy, and swapped yarns about the Maryland countryside with the "Yankee" visitor into the wee hours of Wednesday morning.

An old friend of elementary school days, Mrs. Wendall Rhodes, Friendship, Md., said Holden looked "much, much better than when I saw him a year ago".

"He was laughing and joking the way he did before he was ill she related.

MRS. RHODES said Holden seemed unconcerned by all the fanfare, and appeared to be enjoying himself sometimes "in spite of all the people milling around him".

When Holden continued his jaunt Wednesday morning, he was met at the edge of Route 50 by a cordon of State police cars, assigned by Sgt. William Dykes of the Salisbury State police barracks to escort him through Salisbury.

"The State police were requested by Salisbury officials to spread out the welcome mat for Holden", Sgt. Dykes said.

"It was a pleasure for many of us", he added. "We've gotten to know and like this fellow since he came into the state last week".

By the time the contrasting convoy reached the city limits, some 8000 persons lined the highway for more than three miles.

Newspapers published the news of his coming Tuesday night and Wednesday morning, and a bevy of reporters swarmed around Holden's wagon as he approached the city.

ONE SALISBURY merchant described the scene as the converted wagon and police escort rolled down the main thoroughfare.

"Everybody from little children to businessmen and politicians ran out in the streets to greet him", Richard B. Livingstone, manager of a paint supply house, said.

"Police rerouted all traffic from the main street. Schoolkids with toy pistols and all sorts of Western paraphenalia ran after the wagon", he went on.

"It took Holden more than an hour to get through the eight block main business district. He parked his wagon in front of city hall, where he was greeted by the city officials", he said.

The only ones the hoopdela and hulabaloo seemed to disturb were Holden's two 10 year old horses, Chief Chathem reported.

"Those critters were jumpy and nervous with all the horn honking and shouting. Once, when a school band started to play a Western tune, they bolted and almost broke loose from the make shift hitching rail", he drawled.

A large percentage of the crowd followed Holden from the town as he finally was able to draw free of the crowds and resume his trek to Berlin, 23 miles southeast of Salisbury.

He was expected to reach Berlin, his birthplace, early today, where he will spend the day before returning via Dover and Wilmington, Dela., to Pottstown.

Famous Authority on Problems of Love & Marriage

Maybe He Really Prefers Freedom To Marriage

Dear Beatrice Fairfax:

For the past three years I've been going with a young woman 28 years old who was married before but divorced her husband because he was unfaithful to her more than once.

At least that's what she's told me but somehow, I don't know why, every once in awhile I wonder if maybe it was the other way around.

I'm a fellow 31 years old who has never been married, so maybe I have funny ideas about women, although I've always gone out with a lot of them, but somehow I just can't make this one out. I like her a lot and we have lots of good times together, but I can't seem to get myself to the point of asking her to marry me.

Last week, though, when I was saying good night to her after we had been out in the evening, she got kind of coy and said "when are you going to ask me to marry you?" and I got all fussed up and didn't know what to say.

What do you think is the matter with me that I just can't make up my mind if she would make a good wife for me?

FRANK

Dear Frank:

Do you think it might be possible that you've been single so long that — subconsciously, perhaps — you really don't want to give up your freedom, so your subconscious helps you out by suggesting that maybe this young woman has deceived you about the reason for her divorce and isn't a good risk?

Since you give me no specific explanation for your feeling that what she told you about the divorce might actually be "the other way around", it all sounds pretty vague and it just might be that you're letting your imagination run wild to protect yourself. Think this over just as honestly as you can.

Of course, too, this feeling of yours clearly indicates that you just don't have the confidence in the gal that a man should have in the woman he's going to marry, which is certainly reason enough for not proposing to her.

Why don't you just tell her, at a time when it seems appropriate to go into the matter, that the answer to the question she recently asked you is that you just don't know your own mind and you'd like to know if she'd prefer you didn't take up so much of her time under those circumstances?

I'd feel you'd really be better off under such an arrangement, because if you've been going with the young woman for three years, and still don't know what your feelings are, it might give you some insight into them if you saw her only occasionally and so had a chance to find out whether you really missed her or not.

TWO SCHOOLS SET TO ENTER AAA PARADE

Highway Department To Speed Road Patching

At least two additional area schools will participate in next year's safety patrol parade, directors of the Pottstown Auto club were told Wednesday night when they met at the Hy-Line restaurant, New Hanover.

Souderton and Upper Providence plan to enter the parade next Spring, announced John B. Hartenstine Jr., chairman of the club parade committee. Neither school was in the parade May 15.

Moving pictures of the parade will be shown in area schools in the near future, Hartenstine said.

In other business, directors were informed that the State Highway department plans to expedite its program of patching roads around Pottstown. The State program of maintenance and repair will be stepped up in the near future, according to C. S. Weikert, Highway department district engineer.

THE DIRECTORS also learned that resurfacing and widening of Route 663 north of Pottstown is progressing "according to schedule." The project is to be finished this Summer.

Approximately 900 youngsters, many from the area, attended a picnic for school safety patrols at West Point May 10, Secretary-Manager Nelson M. Gehman announced. Some 830 patrol children attended a second picnic at Menlo park, Perkasie, May 17.

The Annual Auto club picnic will be Aug. 13 at Hershey park, Gehman said.

Sumneytown, Boyertown Pastors Named Trustees by Ministerium

Two area pastors were elected Wednesday to trustee posts in the Evangelical Lutheran Ministerium, conducting its 24th annual convention at Buck Hill Falls.

The synod also elected the Rev. Dr. Samuel E. Kidd, Allentown, as president. The Rev. Kidd was elected on the ninth ballot with 421 votes, defeating his closest rival, the Rev. Richard C. Klick, former local pastor. The Rev. Klick, pastor of Transfiguration Lutheran church from 1939 to 1944, received 199 votes.

Elected as trustees were: The Rev. Elton L. Angstadt, Sumneytown, and the Rev. Fred S. Blank, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church, Boyertown. The Rev. Blank was elected a trustee to the Allentown Good Shepherd Lutheran home, and the Rev. Angstadt was appointed trustee to the Topton Lutheran home.

The conference which closes today, also adopted a resolution on Federal aid to parochial education. The resolution was presented by the Rev. Arnold Keller of Allentown and read:

"Believing that religious education is a function of the home and the church and not of the state, and that when any religious group elects to conduct its own schools, it should also provide the necessary financial support, and that public subsidy of parochial education would not be in the national interest, be it resolved that this synod hereby express its judgments that parochial education should not be subsidized by public funds, and hereby authorizes its president to advise its congregations thereof and to urge their members to make known their individual wills on the subject to their elected representatives in the Congress of the United States."

The resolution was adopted by all but two votes.

A Pottstown seminarian was also approved for ordination to the gospel ministry.

William Brooke Fryer Jr., 25, a graduate of Mt. Airy Lutheran seminary, Philadelphia, will be ordained at services in St. John's Lutheran church, Philadelphia. After ordination, he will serve as pastor at St. John's Lutheran church, New Williams township.

Although the four-day holiday will not generally be observed in the Pottstown area, its observation elsewhere is expected to increase traffic on nearby highways.

Prosperity is only an instrument to be used; not a deity to be worshipped.—(Calvin Coolidge)

Economy Needed

THE hearings by the House ways and means committee on President Kennedy's tax program served to point up the vital necessity for enactment of real tax rate reform legislation if the nation is to achieve the economic growth essential for the future.

So widespread has been the opposition expressed in the Kennedy program, there does not seem to be any likelihood that any substantial part of it will be enacted this year.

Even the AFL-CIO joined vigorously in criticism of the Administration's tax proposals — which include a $1,700,000,000 tax credit for business investment in return for acceptance by business of various tax penalties.

The Kennedy program conjures up the picture of the government strangling the taxpayer with one hand and offering him artificial resuscitation with the other.

Business witnesses before the ways and means committee were almost unanimous in condemning the key provisions of the Administration's program.

In addition to the proposed tax credit, the key provisions include repeal of the four percent dividend credit and $50 exclusion, rigid regulation of business expenses, drastically changing the present method of taxing business income earned abroad, and tax withholding on dividends and interest.

These penalties would be expected to retrieve for the government the $1,700,000,000 granted annually as tax credits for business investment.

The Kennedy argument for the tax credit is that it would result in the creation of new jobs to help solve the unemployment problem.

But members of the ways and means committee — both Democrats and Republicans — indicated a growing belief that the Administration's proposals cannot possibly bring about the solid economic growth that is essential.

What is necessary, a number of business witnesses testified is enactment of the Herlong-Baker bill which, among other things, would lower the personal and corporation tax rate to a maximum of 47 percent by a series of five annual reductions.

This, its advocates contend, would make capital available for a surge of business expansion and modernization which would create many new jobs and, in addition, provide in the long run far more tax revenue than would be lost by the reductions.

By proposing his tax program President Kennedy recognized the relationship between tax policy and economic growth. This was a step forward, but his specific proposals failed dismally to meet the needs.

Business witnesses agreed, in general, that comprehensive legislation (like the Herlong-Baker bill) is essential to provide real relief from the present restrictive impact of taxes on capital accumulation and use.

Needed also is a grass-roots campaign for elimination of all unessential government spending — so as to increase the chances for tax reduction and for balanced budgets.

It is not generally known that already Mr. Kennedy has asked Congress for authority to spend $10,232,000,000 more, over a two-year period, than was proposed by President Eisenhower before he left the White House.

And more spending requests are being prepared for submission to Congress.

The latest official forecast contemplates a $2,200,000,000 deficit during the present fiscal year (ending on June 30) and a $2,800,000,000 "red ink" operation during the next fiscal year.

But a disturbing prediction has now come from Elmer B. Staats, deputy director of the budget bureau, that next year's deficit more likely will be double the present estimate — and may soar to around $5,600,000,000.

All of which emphasized the necessity for economy in every way possible.

Hidden Threat

MEMORIAL Day is a solemn occasion. It has beauty and dignity.

But concealed behind this proud tradition is a threat.

It lurks at intersections, on the open highway and around the bend in a country road. The threat is accidents.

Each year the death toll rises. Each year new pleas are made for safe driving. This year heed the pleas.

Don't become a victim.

Drive with care.

Police Vigilance Needed to Save Kids

Worse Than Dope?

To the Editor: As a parent of one of the children found with explosive Japanese pellets, I am writing this letter to urge parents and police to be more vigilant in their detection and confiscation of these dangerous "playthings."

Considering the lethal danger of the pellets when swallowed by children, as pointed out in The Mercury, I think more concern ought to be paid to ridding the town completely of these baby missiles.

Few children have the opportunity to get near a firecracker, and most could sense its danger on sight.

But I have seen these pellets: they are gaily colored and look delicious. They are exactly the type of thing a small, unspecting child would pop into his mouth.

Then when he bites down on them, or swallows them and his stomach acids get to them — look out!

When you consider a dope peddler, who only injures himself and those he has "hooked" can get a life sentence in some states, it does not seem just that someone who deliberately endangers the life of a child should be subject to much less.

Any small store owner in the Pottstown area who is still selling these pellets should dispose of them or turn them over to the police no matter what the cost to him.

How would he feel if one of the pellets he sold blew apart the mouth of a Pottstown child?

Pottstown POTTSTOWN MOTHER

Pottstown Just Jealous?

To the Editor: It seems the Pottstown marching units struck a streak of jealousy toward the outcome at Washington, D.C.; though I fail to see why they should.

They had an equal opportunity to win the awards and trophies by simply competing against us at Washington this year.

However, they didn't take the challenge and, therefore, have no right to downgrade the true national champions.

Boyertown units proved their capability of this title these last few years, when they brought home one or more first place awards. Where was Pottstown then!

Boyertown marching units didn't simply say that they were the best, they proved it.

I think its about time the Pottstown marching units face reality, they're no longer Number One!!

Keep Dogs on Leash!

To the Editor: Now that Spring is here, Summer and the dog days soon will be upon us. Numerous cases in which children and adults have been bitten severely by dogs already have appeared on the front pages of The Mercury. Recently, a ten-year-old boy was bitten by a rat!

It is difficult to do anything about the rats unless you are a cat, but something can be done about the dogs before it is too late.

People who have dogs and would like to keep them, should make certain the dog is in some sort of a pen or leash during the warm Summer months, rather than being allowed to run loose.

Being cooped up will not be much fun for a dog, but it is much better than being shot at the hands of a policeman after having bitten someone.

Not every officer will be as patient as the police chief of Pottsgrove, who talked a "mad" dog out of his anger.

Too many people who own large dogs in the areas surrounding Pottstown are allowing them to run loose.

They belive there is nothing wrong with it, but the results of their carelessness can be seen nearly every day on the front pages of the paper.

The Worry Clinic

By Dr. GEORGE W. CRANE

JIM B., aged 22, was in a fox hole in Korea a few years ago.

During the artillery barrage, with buddies dying all around him, he realized that he might be killed at any minute.

Alone under the stars, with the shells bursting everywhere and giving a hellish brightness to the mountain terrain, Jim felt that he was almost literally knocking on heaven's portals.

So he figured he ought to say something. But he didn't know how to talk to God.

Fortunately, he was spared, so he wrote a letter home to his mother a few days later and described the situation just mentioned.

"BUT, MOTHER," he added, "you let me down.

"You never sent us kids to Sunday School and never even taught us to pray.

"So there I was, right on the verge of eternity, and I didn't even know how to commence or what to say to the Lord.

"Please correct this error with Sis and Buddy before they get away from you, for it is an awful sensation to face death and not even know how to speak to God."

Teenage delinquency is being spotlighted widely in America today.

But we have an adage in applied psychology that states:

"Bad kids usually have bad parents."

And those "bad" parents are not necessarily immoral or robbers and killers.

No, you can be a "bad" parent just because of your "sins of omission" rather than any overt sins of commission.

MOST PARENTS don't deliberately act like Dickens' Fagin and teach their children to steal or swear or drink or smoke or be cynical of the opposite sex and indulge in illicit affairs.

But many parents "omit" needed training even before the kindergarten age.

This involves moral training, so never be guilty of having your child send you such a letter as Jim's mother received.

Take your children to Sunday school where generous teachers donate their Sabbath morning to try to plant and nurture idealism in the souls of your youngsters.

"But I prefer to wait till my child is old enough to make his own decision about churches," many parents say.

That is wrong.

Inside Television

By EVE STARR

STARR REPORT: If the world is ready for a 25 year old combination of Ethel Merman and Betty Hutton, then Lillian Briggs is ready for the world. Miss Briggs, who also manages to look like Ina Ray Hutton, is a singer with a voice like a clarion bugle, a comedienne with enough energy to light up her hometown of Allentown, a trombone player without peer in the female ranks and a bowler who averages 175. The only thing she leaves behind when she steps on a night club floor or in front of a TV camera is the bowling ball.

Lillian at the moment is bouncing energetically on the periphery of the big time. When she starts breaking through, which is going to be any day now, she is going to do so with all the impact of an Atlas nose cone re-entering the earth's atmosphere.

Night club reviewers around the country invariably refer to her as a blonde bombshell, which is pretty much what she is. She looks like the kind of girl who eats Wheaties for breakfast and plays five sets of tennis just for relaxation.

SHE TRIED out for the high school band in Allentown because she figured that was the best way to get into the football games free. They handed her a trombone, the only instrument left. She's been playing it ever since.

When she finished high school, she took on two jobs — movie cashiering at night and driving a laundry truck during the day — to earn enough money to start her own girl's band.

"The manager of the laundry was pretty smart. He put me in shorts," Lillian laughed, "and business picked up. Soon he had a fleet of trucks, each driven by a girl in shorts. After about a year of housewives and soiled laundry, I changed jobs. The Western Electric people after a series of tests decided I'd be a fine welder.

"I stuck to welding for eight months, and got my own orchestra together for theater and club bookings. In a short order, I was booked six months in advance, and even put a second orchestra on the road. This was the work I loved and I was in show business."

LILLIAN'S FIRST break came in 1955 when manager Jack Petrill, best described as a kindly Col. Tom Parker (Presley's manager), discovered her in New York's small-time Arcadia Ballroom playing with an all-girl orchestra. "Lillian was a standout even then," Petrill told me during a recent visit here.

"She couldn't sing a note, at this time, and had never contemplated a singing career, but I finally sold her on the idea of combining singing with her trombone playing and doing a single.

"We got Leola Carter, Negro blues singer, then about 65, to develop Lillian's style and after almost a year of hard work our little protegee was ready to go it alone. Right from the start, probably because she's so full of fun and good humor, people loved her act. They loved her music — and they loved her singing.

"Sophie Tucker, listening to Lillian at the Sands Hotel in Las Vegas, one evening said, 'She reminds me of ME when I started out,' and Sophie had tears in her eyes," Petrill said wistfully.

Interpreting The News

Kennedy To Ask Moon Shot Effort

By J. M. ROBERTS
(Associated Press Observer)

A man-to-the-moon project, expected to be recommended to Congress Thursday by President Kennedy, will approximately double the nation's space program over a period of years.

It will be a very long shot in the competition with the Soviet Union. The race would be an all-out one, for all-out victory or all-out defeat.

Estimates now are that the Soviets will be ready for their moon attempt between 1967 and 1969. American experts say variously that it might take the United States from 6 to 10 years, but that there is a chance of beating the Soviet Union with a crash program which goes well while the Soviets are running into bugs.

That is the chance the administration is now prepared to take in the hope of proving to the world that the Soviet system is not alone or even pre-eminent in producing scientific achievement.

Little or no military value is expected from the project, beyond the contribution to be expected from intensified development of solid fuels which already are coming along.

The administration sent up trial balloons a month ago to test the willingness of the public to undertake such a project—involving the development of a booster rocket called Nova of far greater power than anything now available to the United States.

Groundwork for the project already is being laid in connection with other space projects. New work to be paid for out of a $125 million increase in this year's space budget will contribute to both old and new programs. The current program will soon be costing over $2 billion a year.

Presumably a part of the Nova research and development funds would produce byproducts of value in the whole field. But primarily Nova would be a single-line program, with the military relying on weapons systems which are already developed or developing. Nova would add $2 to $3 billion a year to presently-envisioned costs, with the outlay growing progressively.

In pursuing the Nova program, the administration will be following a general approach which apparently governs a great deal of its thinking with regard to cold war.

That is the principle that the war is to be won, eventually, through the image which the United States is able to project in the world as the leader of democracy and an exponent of Western educational, scientific, political and economic forces.

There is a question, which some people have raised during predecision consideration of Nova, whether the expenditure of between $20 and $40 billion on a single scientific project would contribute more to the image than if spent on cancer, irrigation, on all the ills and economic needs of peoples the United States desires to impress.

Latin American Unionists To Get Borough Welcome

itors go beneath the surface and find out what is really happening," he added.

THE FIVE-DAY stay is designed to provide that visit beneath the surface. On Monday they will meet with the borough's appointed and elected officials—ranging from Burgess John B. Hartenstine Jr. to the clerk in the engineering office.

Tuesday calls for attendance at the Veterans day parade and other holiday activities and Wednesday a visit to the public school system with Superintendent Havard Fosnocht is on the schedule.

Thursday the trade unionists—four of whom are from Peru, one from Venezuela and one from Honduras—will meet with their counterparts in the labor movement—representatives of the Schuylkill Valley Joint board of the Textile Workers union.

Since several of the visitors are textile union officials, they will also visit the Yocom Knitting mills, Vine street, Stowe, to study the operation of a typical American plant and meet with "management" representatives.

FRIDAY'S schedule includes a meeting with Chamber of Commerce officials and employes of The Mercury. "In their visit to The Pottstown Mercury," Sanford said, "we hope the group will have an opportunity to tour the plant and discuss the part played by the free press in the life of a community."

The six are:

Hermino Aguilar, 40, a technical adviser to the Clisa Textile union and formerly secretary general of the union and a delegate to the Congress of the Textile Federation of Peru.

Jorge Beltran, 27, secretary general of the Clisa union and formerly the union's secretary of social welfare.

Rene Cancino, 23, secretary of defense for the San Antonio Textile union and secretary of correspondence for the textile committee in Peru.

Isidore Garcia, 31, secretary of organization for the San Antonio union.

Agustin Ramon Maneiro Acevedo, 25, a staff member of the Trade Union of Commercial, Clerical and Technical employes in Venezuela.

Luis Alonso Villanueva Duarte, 26, secretary general of Sindicato de Trabajadores del Hospital Vicente D'Antonio in Honduras.

Your Horoscope

The Stars Say—By ESTRELLITA

For Today

RESTRICTIVE influences of the past couple of days lift somewhat now, so you should have smoother sailing in most endeavors. Some situations which have been "hanging fire" for a time could also be happily solved under present configurations.

For The Birthday

If today is your birthday, your horoscope indicates that you are lucky indeed.

According to the stars, there are five months within the next twelve which stand out as better-than-excellent for job, business and monetary affairs. These are July, October, November, December and February. Do take advantage of all opportunities available then to forge ahead, since the intermediate periods do not promise much in the way of either recognition or gain, and you'll have to balance "off" and "on" periods to "come out even."

But you can do it — and profitably, too.

July, October and next January will be excellent for travel and, if you're single, the year ahead brings great promise of new romance and/or marriage. In this connection, your best months will be August, September, late October, December, next March and May.

Generous influences will govern your domestic and social life for most of the year ahead, but don't conteract these happy prospects by losing temper with loved ones, especially during September and late November. Unique creative enterprises launched in mid-December have an exceptionally good chance of succeeding before the end of next March.

A child born on this day will be endowed with a fine mind and will have great tenacity in the pursuit of goals.

AREA SOLDIER IN VICINITY OF TRAGEDY

sagebrush wastelands of central Washington where two weeks of intensive training was just completed.

Elliott, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond S. Elliott, was assigned to Ft. Lewis in February after serving in Germany for three months. A graduate of Daniel Boone High school, he will enter a business college after his discharge in August.

TWELVE OF the soldiers were homeward bound to Oklahoma when the heavily ladened transport lumbered off the runway of McChord Air Force base at 2:20 a. m. It crashed and burneed five miles south of the airbase.

"There was a flash in the sky," said a sheriff's officer. "Only we couldn't tell whether it came from an explosion in the air or after the plane hit the ground."

State police, first to reach the scene said the fire was so intense that rescuers were unable to enter the plane for two hours. It came down on the edge of the Ft. Lewis Army post where Elliott, 21, is stationed.

The fort is adjacent to the airbase about ten miles southwest of Tacoma, Wash, and about 40 miles south of Seattle.

The four-engine, propeller-driven transport was carrying several pieces of heavy equipment as it lumbered off the McChord Air Force Base runway, faltered, plunged into a wooded area and burned.

What caused the crash was not known.

At the controls were Capt. Alvin W. Hill, 40, of Passaic, N.J., with 7,000 hours of flying time, and Capt. Warren J. Fair, 43, of Evans City, Pa., with 5,000 hours.

The flash in the sky was the first hint of trouble.

The murk was lit by furiously burning wreckage. Survivors moaned and cried for help. Bodies were strewn among the splintered trees.

Jagged hunks of metal heaped against the tree trunks were all that was left of the $1.5-million transport.

Patricians Schedule Discussion Tonight

The Patricions club of St. Aloysius Catholic church, an adjunct of the Legion of Mary, will conduct a discussion on the topic "Confession" at tonight's meeting in the school cafeteria. The meeting is scheduled for 8 o'clock.

TRAINS FAIL TO SOUND HORN, MAN CHARGES

be "practically on top of the crossing" before the shrill horn sounded.

Cappelletti will testify on behalf of the victim's widow, Mrs. Dorothy Good, in a $400,000 suit against the railroad as a result of the accident.

THE REAR of the shop he operates with Harvey Smith faces the Pennsylvania tracks. The men can see the trains approach, but can't see the crossing itself.

"Since that day when I heard the whistle, then the thud, and then saw the dust cloud and figured somebody got hit, I can't help but pay attention to every train that goes by," Cappelletti explained.

He added that the trains sound their horns with no consistency. "Sometimes they start the whistle and keep a long blast going way down the line. Other times they're almost at the crossing before we hear a toot.

"And then, the train goes by, and we never hear a thing. I don't know if they forget or have different orders, or what. But trains go through that crossing without a whistle."

Good's death, following by three years a fatal train-car crash at the adjacent Reading Railroad tracks, led to a preliminary Public Utilities Commission study of the situation.

One suggestion, backed by the railroads, is that Squirrel Hollow road from Route 422 to Old Reading pike be closed.

A hearing in the Berks County courthouse June 2 will give township residents an opportunity to protest this plan and offer other safety suggestions.

Wholesale Grocery Firm to Dissolve

With the death of the last remaining partner of the existing corporation, W. Auchenbach and Son, incorporated, longtime local grocery wholesalers at South and Penn streets, will dissolve.

Walter R. Neiman, who died April 11, was preceeded in death by James Reigner and Irvin March. The firm of Binder and Binder, attorneys, gives official notice today that the board of directors is winding up the affairs of W. Auchenbach and Sons, in anticipation of a Certificate of Dissolution from the State.

And when we say "low price," we mean more than merely the pint-sized figure on the window sticker of a new Corvair. You're going to be saving like sixty on gas. And on the antifreeze you won't buy next winter, and the radiator repairs you'll never have to pay for. About the only things Corvair doesn't skimp on are room, smoothness, style and pure driving joy. But that's the other half of the story. Talk to your Chevrolet dealer about it soon!

Modern Manners

By CAROLYN HAGNER SHAW

QUESTION BOX

Question: We live in a ranch-type house, all on one floor. My daughter is being married next month and there is one question that bothers us.

She will be married in the large living room and the reception will follow immediately after the ceremony.

When she leaves the reception, to change her clothes to start on her honeymoon, how does she throw her bouquet, when there are no steps to stand on when she throws it to her six waiting bridesmaids? I understand that it is traditional for the bride to follow this custom by standing above them.

MRS. K.G.B.

Answer: Not necessarily. Your daughter's attendants should be placed at one end of the living room, grouped together.

The bride walks to the other end of the room, and throws her bouquet high in the air, aimed at them.

The result is the same as throwing it from a stairway. The lucky girl who reaches up and catches it, will, according to tradition, be the next to walk down the aisle with her Prince Charming!

Question: I have apparently made an awful mistake! I hope you can help me to get out of it without hurting feelings. About a month ago, when my husband and I were on a trip, I got big-hearted and invited a very nice widow that we met, to come and visit us sometime.

She took me up on this, and two weeks ago I received a wire telling me when she was arriving. This was ten days ago, and she has firmly settled herself and shows no signs of leaving!

She is very nice, but our house is rather small. While we don't mind being crowded for a few days, a matter of weeks is a little too much!

How can I get out of this mess of my own making? I don't want to be rude or unfriendly.

Mrs. L. E.

Answer: It is always wise to set a definite time limit when inviting someone to visit your home.

Saying "It would be nice to have you as our guest for a week. What about coming next Friday?", is not as rude as it sounds. It avoids the kind of situation in which you now find yourself.

The guest knows what to plan for, an and so do you. It simplifies matters for all concerned.

In your present predicament there is wrong on both sides. Your guest should realize that she is overstaying her welcome and should cut her visit short. If she doesn't, your only considerate recourse is to make up a fib — that you have planned another trip, or expect other guests.

I know you dislike doing this, but it's really the only way out without those hurt feelings you speak of!

Question: Unfortunately I lost your excellent column on who paid for what at a wedding. It set me straight on almost everything, but one question still causes trouble. I say the man I am marrying is supposed to pay for my attendants' gifts. He thinks I should. Please straighten us out!

Miss G. V. S.

Answer: You are wrong. You are responsible for the selection and payment of your attendants' gifts. He purchases those for his best man and ushers.

Second Stage Failure Blocks Orbit Of Communications Satellite Try

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Second-stage failure thwarted an attempt Wednesday to orbit a radio-brain satellite to investigate the effect of the ionosphere on radio and television communication.

The 75-pound satellite was launched in the nose of a Juno II rocket. The early part of the flight appeared smooth, but project officials reported later that the second stage failed to ignite.

The radio-brain satellite carries a single radio transmitter designed to bombard ground stations around the world with a steady stream of signals on six different frequencies.

Analysis of the radio impulses as received on earth could tell why the ionosphere occasionally disrupts radio transmission, causing blackouts, fading, and snowy television reception.

The experiment could show how the ionosphere changes under such influences as sunlight, solar flares and magnetic storms.

Latest IN Science — Scientists Study Heartbeat Of Housefly

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Tattooed sailors, man's first attempts to fly, the secrets of waves and an electronic computer that recites Hamlet are subjects for science at work.

WHAT'S IN A TATTOO?

An informal poll at a U.S. Navy base asked the question: What kind of person is the sailor who wears tattoos?

Opinions included: "Emotionally immature; proving he is a tough guy; attempting to gain some indelible evidence of his identification with a rough-and-tumble masculine group . . .mixed up . . . impulsive . . .over-aggressive . . . lower intelligence . . ."

In tests, psycholgists found sailors with more than one tatoo were more personally maladjusted than others, but little different in average intelligence.

Men wanting tattoos were less well-adjusted than men who didn't want tattoos. There was little difference between men with one tattoo and those with none, raising the possibility that a single tattoo is only a one-time fling with passing psychological importance.

OFF WE GO

More than 900 years ago, a British Benedictine monk named Eilmer made the first successful flight recorded in English language history. He built a set of wings, climbed a high tower and jumped into the arms of a favoring wind.

Eilmer glided more than 600 feet, then crash-landed, breaking both legs and became lamed for life, says Dr. Lynn White, University of California historian.

The first flight recorded in history was made by Ibn Firnas, a Moslem doctor in Spain about 875 A.D., Dr. White says. He covered his body with feathers, used wings, and also crash-landed.

WHERE WAVES BEGIN

Like a child running in the dark, a wave rolls in rhythm toward the shore, until it catches its feet, trips, breaks into surf and sprawls forward on the beach.

But it is born at sea, as wind whips the water into short-crested, choppy waves, say University of Chicago researchers who are probing the secrets of waves in a specially built 72-foot tank.

These abbreviated wavelets, generated by the wind, merge into the rolling swells of the ocean. Then the length of the wave shortens as it rises higher. As it heads toward land, it breaks when the wave "stubs its toe" on the beach bottom.

SPEAK IT TRIPPINGLY

An electronic computer system in partnership with a tape recorder has had a chance that most actors dream of: playing Hamlet.

Bell Telephone Laboratories scientists put the phonetic elements of the speech on punched cards and ran them through the computer which produced a tape that could be played on a tape recorder. The recorder then spoke the famous Hamlet soliloquy, "To be or not to be . . .," in a slightly metallic, baritone voice. It can also sing.

The object of all this is to learn more about the elements of speech to aid in communications. Other scientists building computers to read may be able to team up with the speaking system to translate books into tape recordings for the blind.

THE HOUSEFLY'S HEART

Fordham University scientists have listened, counted and watched the heartbeat of the housefly.

In a most delicate procedure they have inserted electrical connections, placing one on the fly's heart, one on its body. Then on a greenish screen they have seen an electrocardiogram of the heart's performance. The tubular heart, beating 230 times a minute, will tell biologists more about the life processes of the insect.

CHURCHMAN HONORED — After 57 years of service as deacon of his church—St. Paul's United Church of Christ — Wilson A. Christman (right) was honored with a surprise dinner and gifts on Wednesday night. The Rev. William C. Ebbert (left), pastor of the church, and James Waters, president of the Consistory present one of the gifts.

honor. He smiled and beckoned to well-wishers.

"I never knew a thing about it," he said.

The Rev. Ebbert thanked all those who "looked blank" when Christman inquired what was "going on Wednesday night."

In a year by year account of Christman's life, the Rev. Ebbert explained how many ways the history of Christman was also the history of the church.

SOME OF the highlights of Christman's life were:

1883—Confirmed. "He took communion then and has missed it few times since," the Rev. Ebbert said.

1905—Elected deacon of church.

1910—Married to Anna Lottie Griesemer.

1910—Became treasurer of the church, an office he still holds. "To be a good treasurer, one must have handwriting which cannot be read," the Rev. Ebbert said. "Christman fills the bill admirably."

1926—Ordained an elder.

In addition to these offices, Christman also fulfilled the offices of chorister—"getting the people to sing loud"—driver of a livery rig taking "circuit" pastors on the rounds of their churches, a member of the choir, which he has been in "as long as I can remember," and a fill-in organist.

Christman's life was recounted in letters from members of the church and former pastors, who furnished information on his history. One of the letters said:

"He was a man who was never hurried, always orderly and well-groomed, and with a built-in cigar. He had a twinkle in his eye and a never-failing sense of humor."

After this praise, Christman was presented with a gift—57 cigars.

"That's alright," Christman said. "Better to smoke here than the hereafter."

Donald S. Sands presented the congregation with a communion service which was purchased and engraved in the name of Christman.

Special guest at the dinner was Wilmer Long, president of the Philadelphia synod of the United Church of Christ. He lauded Christman for his "steadfast devotion to the church."

Small Additions To Sewer Setup To Be Ended

hookups—one from Upper Pottsgrove and one from Lower Pottsgrove—were turned down.

The committee explained that "individual future additions will be held off until the townships make up their mind on whether or not to come into the borough sewer system."

In other action, the committee approved the solicitation of bids on the extension of the sewer line on State street from Reynolds avenue to the borough line; on Jackson street from Grant street to Sheridan street; and on Mervine street from North Charlotte street to North Hanover street.

Bids for highway materials were also awarded, but bids on two new snowplows were tabled pending further study.

$800 IN FEES GAINED FROM HANDLERS

Steele noted, followed a series of articles in The Mercury beginning March 29 that outlined the lack of enforcement of the ordinance.

HE ALSO pointed out that the largest number of food handlers ever covered is expected following the free chest X-rays provided by The Mercury on May 9 and 10.

Prior to the free X-rays for the food handlers, less than half of the 1200 food handlers in the borough were covered, but during the two days 617 food handlers who previously ignored the ordinance were checked.

The results of the X-rays are due to be returned to the food handlers and Steele within the next several weeks. Steele will then check to see that all those who took the X-rays complete the requirements of the ordinance — a medical examination and registration with the borough.

THE OLD SCHOOLHOUSE CHANGES — The days of the old one room schoolhouse clearly are a thing of the past, as the two pictures plainly show. The photo at left shows construction for the new convent and elementary school for St. Aloysius parish. This shot, taken from the corner of Hanover and Beech streets, points out the progress of the building efforts. Well on its way to completion in the background is the new convent for 16 Sisters of St. Francis who will staff the school, only signs of which are the excavations and forms in the foreground. This building and the convent will open in the Fall.

Right is a photo of construction on the new St. Mary's Catholic school in Delphi. The Rev. Arthur T. Hedge, pastor of St. Mary's is shown at right surveying the progress of the work. The St. Aloysius project will cost upwards of $325,000, while St. Mary's will cost about $150,000.

Music Program, Clothing Display Highlight Final PTA Meeting

A musical program and a clothing display highlighted the final meeting of the season of Boyertown Area Junior-Senior High PTA in the school dining room.

The clothing on display were made by pupils in the homemaking department of both the Junior and Senior High schools. There also was a fine display of a wide variety of items made in the various shops.

Alfred Desimone presented the Seventh grade chorus which sang several numbers. A portion of the Eighth and Ninth grade mixed chorus also sang several songs under the direction of Sydney Mollard. George Moore was narrator for both chorus presentations.

Included on the program was a piano solo by Barbara Dragan.

During the business session a letter from the Pennsylvania Congress of Parents and Teachers was read, announcing that Ingeborg Engel of Gilbertsville RD, had been awarded a Hannah Kent Schoff Memorial scholarship to Kutztown State college.

* * *

MRS. CALVIN I. Yoh advised that further information concerning the adult education course will be released in the near future. The committee is compiling data from the flyers.

Further business included the election of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Chittick as representatives to the Berks County council of Parents and Teachers.

Mrs. Willard Hetzel conducted the installation ceremony for the following new officers: president, Frank Sadvoy; vice president, Mrs. Carolyn Kulakowsky; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Ruth Petrowicz; recording secretary, Mrs. Eleanor Wynings; treasurer, Mrs. Charles Moll Jr.

Sadvoy announced the following committee chairmen: program, Mrs. Yoh, co-chairman, Mrs. William Gross; membership, Mrs. Oscar Becker; publications, Mrs. Warren Lumbatis; hospitality, Mrs. Paul Shollenberger; ways and means, Mrs. Stephen Jessum Jr.; budget and finance, Fitzhugh Clarke; historian, Mrs. Charles Hoss; publicity, Mrs. Willis Soles; chaplain, Mrs. Douglas Wade; school board representative, Robert Chittick.

MRS. WADE reported on a recent meeting concerning the forming of a Boyertown Area Jointure council of PTAs. At present, five of the local associations are members of the Berks County council and two are members of the Montgomery County council. The local groups represented at the recent meeting voted to form a council for this area—provided it is approved by the members of at least five of the seven involved. As soon as this plan has been approved, action will be taken to form the new council.

The meeting was concluded with the serving of refreshments during a social hour.

2 Join Auxiliary

Two new members were welcomed into the Ladies auxiliary of Earl Township Fire company during the monthly meeting in the company's social room.

The members are Sally Venzke, Earlville, and Betty Stauffer, New Berlinville.

Vice president, Ruth Schlegel, conducted the business meeting attended by 32 members.

During the social hour a pig-in-box prize was awarded to Mary Botz.

Board Eyes Quonset Huts To Ease Class Crowding

The need for three additional classrooms for the ensuing school year was discussed at length during the meeting of the Boyertown Joint School committee in the board room of the Boyertown Area Senior High school with the president, Arthur J. Landis, in charge.

Following the discussion, the committee authorized Dr. Leon H. Farrin, supervising principal, to purchase up to three quonset huts from a Marine post at Camp Lejune, N.C., if Dr. Farrin felt they were adequate for the demands of the school.

The huts, which measure 20 by 50 feet, would be purchased in conjunction with the Civil Defense director in Reading at a cost of $300 each.

Dr. Farrin pointed out the need for three more teachers to complete the staff for the next school term. They include a social studies teacher in the Senior High school and a girls' physical education teacher and a guidance teacher, both in the Junior High school.

THE SUPERVISING principal also recommended to the committee that it approve the opening of the Junior and Senior high libraries every Wednesday from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m., during the Summer months. The action was approved.

The committee adopted the school calendar for the 1961-62 school term which has school opening on Wednesday, Sept. 6 and closing June 8. The calendar allows for three make up days for snow or other inclement weather.

Three fuel oil bids were received with the successful bidder being the Swann Oil corporation, Sassamansville on a bid for #5 fuel oil at .0795 per gallon. The same bidder also was low on #2 fuel oil which is used in a number of elementary schools. The latter will be referred to the respective school boards.

Reports were also heard from Jerome Merkel, driver education teacher, who attended a safety conference at Monroeville and from Betty Landis who attended the Pennsylvania Education Secretaries association conference at Pennsylvania State university.

The school joint board and Joint committee meetings will be Tuesday, June 27 at 7:30 p.m., in the school.

U.S. Antitrust Division Launches Probe of AT&T

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Justice Department has started an antitrust investigation of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co.

News of the investigation, which came in a letter from the department to the head of a labor union, caused AT&T stock to drop sharply on the New York Stock Exchange.

At noon, the stock slumped to $117.75 a share, a drop of $7.37. However, it began to recover after that and climbed to $122 at the close of the market, for a total day's loss of $3.13.

The letter announcing the action was written by Lee Loevinger assistant attorney general in charge of the Antitrust Division, and sent to E. L. Hageman, president of the Western Union Division of the Commercial Telegraphers Union.

In New York, AT&T said in a statement: "We have not been informed of any unusual investigation going on at this time, and we believe we are in full compliance with the antitrust laws.

"As reported in the press, the department's letter of May 8 sounds like the usual acknowledgement that might apply to any complaint."

Loevinger wrote Hageman on that date that as a result of "a number of complaints concerning activities" of AT&T, the department is investigating various aspects of the telephone industry.

Hageman had complained to the department that AT&T's new Telepak system is tending to take business away from Western Union. Telepak is a leased-wire service offering various forms of communication.

Hageman said that although AT&T was forced to divorce itself from the telegraphic business many years ago, it now takes in 44 per cent of the total telegraphic revenues in the United States through teletypewriter and other forms of service.

"The time has come for our government to take action against this gigantic communications monopoly," the union leader wrote the Justice Department.

PRR Reports Loss Of $16 Million

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Pennsylvania railroad Wednesday reported a deficit of nearly $16 million for the first four months of 1961 compared with a loss of $811,500 for the similar period last year.

The April deficit totaled $2,996,979, while a year ago America's biggest railroad showed a profit of $2,085,668 for the month.

The PRR earnings statement showed railway operating revenues for the first four months were $251,011,250 which was more than $57 million or nearly 19 percent less than the similar 1960 period.

April's revenues were $63,409,523, nearly 20 percent below the $79,088,716 total a year ago.

In 1959 the deficit for the first four months totaled $2,264,466, while the month of April showed a profit of $4,049,434.

Wall Street News and Views

Impact Of Du Pont Decision, AT&T Probe Seen As Temporary

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market has taken a couple of hard blows from Washington this week but some Wall Streeters feel the unsteadying effects will be only temporary.

First, the Supreme Court ordered Du Pont to get rid of its 23 per cent interest in General Motors—63 million shares worth about $3 billion.

Second, the Justice Department said it was making an antitrust investigation of American Telephone & Telegraph Co.

In each case, stocks of the companies involved slumped and resulted in a weakening of other sections of the market.

"This has had an impact, no question about it," commented Martin Gilbert of Van Alstyne, Noel & Co. "But it will be temporary."

He predicted the market would go up again next weeek because the public is optimistic about business conditions and aggressive in the purchase of stock.

"I think it will be without lasting effect on the market as a whole," said Eldon A. Grimm of Walston & Co.

He believes the market will roll ahead under the spur of business recovery and new government spending programs, such as that for space.

Grimm is of the opinion that this week's developments "show there is in the government a bias against bigness."

Lester Wyetzner of Bache & Co joins in the contention that the immediate effects will be rather fleeting.

However, he points out that potential stock buyers have stepped aside for the time being, causing the shift in market leadership to be stemmed.

For the last two weeks, he said, the leadership had been changing from groups such as the vending machines and retails to the better grade cyclicals like the steels, chemicals and motors.

E. George Schaeffer, Indianapolis analyst, looks for a slowdown in the volume of public stock buying in the near future but expects it to be followed this summer by "another dynamic upswing to new highs."

"The main reason for anxiety among some of our economists," he says, 'is that the stock market has been speeding along too fast since last October.

"It is, in doing so, discounting a tremendous and fast period of growth ahead. Once people see this huge coming period of national prosperity, then today's lofty stock prices are apt to look more reasonable to them."

FREDA GLOSS THRILLED AT APPOINTMENT

seeing anyone with such a deep and sincere interest in books and the function of a library".

MISS GLOSS related how Jenkins often went to the library after school and asked if he could help out with counseling little children about reading.

"And if he ever was welcome then, he's a thousand times more welcome now. He's got the ability and the interest to bring Pottstown public library up to date and make it an institution people can be proud of".

Teacher and pupil in the library field will exchange positions Sept. 1. Jenkins then will take over the old library and Miss Gloss will remain as head of the children's department.

When the old building is torn down to make way for construction of a streamlined, $200,000, one story structure, the two old friends will spend long hours plotting and planning the arrangement of Miss Gross's "dream" library.

"If anyone thinks I'll be out of work when the new librarian takes over, they're all wrong," she pointed out. "I'll have more work to do than ever before."

MISS GLOSS, well known to three generations of students and booklovers, started her career at the library as a high school girl.

First she worked as a part-time assistant to members of the Century club, who staffed the building in its embryo stages.

Purchased from the late M. Burke Casselberry for $18,000 in 1921, largely with Century club funds, the library was run on an erratic basis until Miss Gloss took over.

A State librarian came to Pottstown then and taught Miss Gloss what were then the latest in library techniques. She ran the library singlehanded for several years until Mrs. Elizabeth R. Gudebrod, 566 High street, joined her in the early 1930s.

Both Miss Gloss and Mrs. Gudebrod worked together almost 30 years. Since then the staff was enlarged to a total of six full and parttime workers.

Board Acclaims

tion center", Yocom enthused.

When Jenkins assumes his position Sept. 1, he will receive the "unlimited and unqualified support of the board of directors", Yocom said.

"The system of reforms and additions he's bringing to Pottstown should make our library one of the best in the State. We of the board will do everything we can to help Jenkins achieve this goal," he added.

MRS. MERRILL Crouthamel, committeewoman who supervised interviewing and hiring the new librarian, termed Jenkins "one of the finest young librarians in the nation" as I said his qualifications "far surpassed those of the other 10 applicants for the post."

"When I interviewed Jenkins the past week", Mrs. Crouthamel reported, "I was overwhelmed by his enthusiasm and familiarity with every facet of library science.

"He talked at great lengths on the possibilities Pottstown had for developing one of the country's top information and public library centers", she noted.

"What was more impressive than his talk, though, was the splendid record he made in Wise, Va. There he turned a crude set of plans into the fastest growing library systems in the nation."

This accounted, Mrs. Crouthamel said, for his selection as the honor speaker on expansion of libraries at the national American Library association convention in Cleveland in July.

"He is truly an inspiring and dedicated young man. We are confident he will turn Pottstown's new library into the institution we've always dreamed of", Mrs. Crouthamel added.

BOARD PRESIDENT Storm went further with his enthusiasm for 43 year old Jenkins' prospects of overhauling the existing library system.

"The fact he was able to make such a smashing success of his reforms in Virginia gives me reason to believe he can do far better with his program with the facilities we are willing and able to furnish him with", he exclaimed.

"Not only will he have a modern, $200,000 building and all its accoutrements at his fingertips, but he'll have the unlimited support, financially and otherwise, of the townspeople.

"Folks in this area have been starved for the proper reading facilities for years. Now they'll have a chance to show just what they can do to make a progressive library boom," he commented.

POTTSTOWN AREA residents will have the benefit of a greatly improved and enlarged system of library services when Jenkins takes control Sept. 1.

He told The Mercury Tuesday he would introduce a series of 15 services, ranging from investment counseling to record libraries, to the current facilities.

Jenkins will be no stranger to many Pottstown persons. He was born in the borough the son of Flora (High) and the late S. Frederick Jenkins Sr. in 1918, and was graduated from Pottstown High school with the class of 1936.

His two brothers are well known to localites. S. Frederick Jenkins Jr., 711 High street, is assistant treasurer of the First Federal Savings and Loan association. Eugene B. Jenkins, Sanatoga, is treasurer of the Neapco corporation.

His mother lives at 1008 Belleview avenue.

JENKINS' experience in library work dates back to the days when he assisted the library staff in after school hours at the public library of which he will assume control in Sept.

He left the borough in 1941 as one of the first area enlistees in the Army. He was discharged 11 years later with the rank of captain in the Army engineers.

Jenkins studied at Ursinus college one year to complete Army studies, and was granted a bachelor or arts degree in business administration and English literature.

Next he studied for a masters degree in library science at the University of Michigan. He then was assistant librarian at Washington and Lee university and Kingsport, Tenn., public libraries before going to Wise, Va., one year ago.

STORM SAID one of Jenkins' top qualifications which won him unanimous acceptance for the post was his broad educational background and public speaking ability.

"He will replace the old image of the stolid librarian by going out and enlisting support on a communitywide basis. He is the type person who will make everything he attempts a success.

"As far as I am concerned", Storm concluded, "He is the best thing ever to happen to Pottstown public library."

SCHOOL BOARD HEAD CITES TIGHT BUDGET

Recreation Commission Increase Seen Unlikely

The recreation commission "will either have to cut down its program or find the money it needs somewhere else," the president of the Pottstown School board said Wednesday night.

H. Bert Shaw called the already approved tentative 1961-62 budget "as tight as possible," and pointed out that taxes were already raised three mills to meet it.

The recreation commission voted Tuesday night to ask the school board for an additional $1390 — including $300 for an increase in the $6200 salary of Recreation Director Edwin Shellenberger.

The school board tentatively allocated $20,400—the same as in 1960-61—to cover the salaries and wages of the recreation commission staff. Borough council previously allocated $30 754 for operation, maintenance and capital improvements.

THE SCHOOL board fiscal year runs from July 1 to June 31, the borough's from Jan. 1 to Dec. 31. The borough's allocation also includes maintenance personnel while the school board's includes State-certified personnel working with recognized youth groups.

Shaw explained that while he was speaking "only for myself, I just don't see where the money could come from. There are things the school board would like to do now—like putting in trees around the high school—that we can't afford to do."

The recreation commission first requested an increase in budget hearings prior to the adoption of the tentative $2,345,200 budget. It was turned down then.

"I have nothing against the recreation commission," Shaw pointed out. "There are just too many other important things that have to be done—and we can't even do them this year."

Also appointed as trustees were: Robert E. Shaver, 273 Broad street, Spring City, to the C. Gilbert Steffe Council, Princes of Jerusalem, and John J. Kessler, East High street, to the Reading Lodge of Perfection, 14th degree.

SIX RESIDENTS ARE ORDERED TO CUT WEEDS

Kirby or Steele.

The original ordinance, passed in 1942, set the fine at a minimum of $5 and a maximum of $25 and gave the property owner 48 hours to clear the weeds away. It was amended in 1953 to increase the fines to a minimum of $25 and a maximum of $100, and the time limit to ten days.

In addition to the fine, the borough is also authorized to cut the weeds and charge the property owner the cost plus 20 percent. In default of payment of either the fine or the costs plus 20 percent, the property owner faces a two day jail sentence in the borough lockup.

The ordinance calls it "unlawful . . . to permit weeds or similar vegetation not edible or planted or cultivated for some useful or ornamental purpose to grow or remain on such premises, land or property, and all such weeds or similar vegetation are hereby declared to be a nuisance and detrimental to the health, safety and convenience of the inhabitants of the Borough of Pottstown."

Mississippi Jails 'Freedom Riders'

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Two buses carrying 27 "Freedom Riders"—both whites and Negroes — rolled into Mississippi's capital city Wednesday and all were jailed.

City policemen who ringed the city's bus terminal—some of them with police dogs on leashes — arrested both groups when the entered waiting rooms reserved for whites.

Charges against the "Freedom Riders," whose trip started in Montgomery, Ala., included breach of peace, disobeying an officer. They were not charged with attempting to insite a riot, as were the "Freedom Riders" who arrived earlier. Bond for each was set at $500 on each charge. None made the bail immediately.

The pattern for arrests was the same in both cases. Officers repeatedly ordered the "Freedom Riders" to leave, but the order was ignored.

Police hustled them into a waiting patrol wagon and sped them to jail.

There was one white person in each of the 12-member contingents aboard the two buses.

Jackson Police Chief W. D. Rayfield said the "Freedom Riders" came to Jackson to violate city and state laws. He said they would be "accomodated" by being arrested for such violations.

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People offered its full legal resources to the "Freedom Riders" including the $1,500 bond for each.

Crowds flocked to the terminal in this central-Mississippi city of 150,000 awaiting arrival of the first bus, but there were no incidents other than the arrests.

The crowd dispersed when the patrol wagon hauled the "Freedom Riders" away. The blue-clad policemen remained near the bus terminal directing traffic.

A second bus of "Freedom Riders," one that left Montgomery with one white man and 14 Negroes about four hours after the first bus, skipped a scheduled stop at Meridian, the state's second largest city, and continued on to Jackson, about 125 miles away.

Almost 100 rifle-armed Mississippi National Guardsmen maintained a vigil at the Meridian bus station. City police cleared the terminal of everyone but passengers.

Among the 12 arrested at Jackson were Paul Dietrich, 29, a white man from Washington D. C., and the Rev. James M. Lawson, a Negro minister from Nashville.

Before boarding the bus in Montgomery most of the Negro riders strolled into the bus station's lunchroom and ordered breakfast. They were served without any hesitancy.

The bus-station manager said they were the first Negroes ever to eat at the lunchroom.

Mississippi Adjutant General W. P. Wilson said there were reports that a short-fused stick of dynamite would be tossed into the bus when it stopped at the Alabama-Mississippi line.

But when the bus stopped at a knoll on the state line to exchange Mississippi National Guardsmen for their Alabama counterparts, there was no incident. But patrolmen had cleared the area in advance.

Lawson asked that the heavy military and police escort be stopped.

"We will accept the violence and the hate," he said, "absorb it without returning it in kind."

But his appeal fell on deaf ears and a caravan of National Guard, highway patrol and sheriff's deputies rolled toward Jackson with the bus.

Meanwhile, a third contingent of "Freedom Riders", including white faculty members of Yale and Wesleyan Universities, left Atlanta for Montgomery, Mississippi and eventually New Orleans, the target of all "Freedom Riders" delegations.

Tshombe Is Reported Suffering Breakdown

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga (AP)—The Katanga government said it received word from Coquilhatville Wednesday that President Moise Tshombe is suffering a serious nervous breakdown.

A spokesman did not say how it was learned the independence-minded president of this province is ill. But he said U.N. headquarters in Elisabethville has been asked to provide safe conduct for Tshombe's personal physician, Dr. G. Szeles, so he could go to Coquilhatville.

The central government arrested Tshombe nearly a month ago when he attempted to leave a unity conference of Congo leaders in Coquilhatville. He has been under guard since.

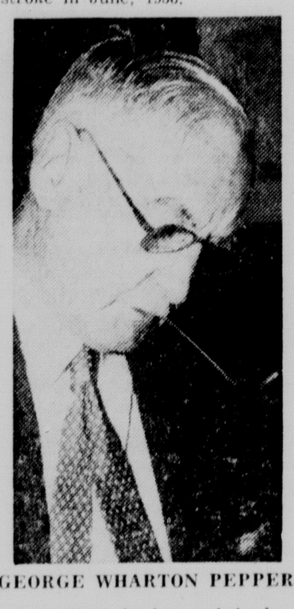
CANDIDACY ANNOUNCED

MANILA (AP)—Rep. Sergio Osmena Jr., son of former President Sergio Osmena, has announced his candidacy for vice president in the November elections. He will run as an independent.

G. W. Pepper, Ex-Senator, Dies At Age 94

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—George Wharton Pepper, former U. S. senator from Pennsylvania, died at his home in suburban Devon Wednesday. He was 94.

Pepper, one of the most famous lawyers in Pennsylvania history, had been ill since he suffered a stroke in June, 1958.



GEORGE WHARTON PEPPER

A brilliant background in law and a vigorous public spirit took Pepper to the Senate and made him a leading national figure.

Although his stay in the Senate was shortened by political strife, his position of leadership in legal, educational and civic enterprises kept him in the public eye.

He went to the Senate by appointment of Gov. William C. Sproul in January, 1922, to fill the seat left vacant by the death of Boies Penrose.

Pepper easily won election later that year to his predecessor's unexpired term.

NAVY PLANE SMASHES OLD SPEED MARK

Jet Fighter Crosses Country In 2 Hours, 48 Minutes

NEW YORK (AP)—A Navy jet fighter plane flashed from coast to coast in 2 hours, 48 minutes Wednesday to eclipse a record that had stood since 1957. Two accompanying planes were timed within 15 minutes, also beating the old record.

Said Lt. Richard F. Gordon, 31, of Seattle, Wash., who piloted the fastest plane across the nation at an average speed of 871.38 m.p.h.:

"It was a wonderful trip. The weather was fine all along the route. I feel great, but I'm real tired."

As the three F4H1 Phantoms zoomed down from 50,000 feet for a landing at Floyd Bennet Field, shock waves exploded ahead of them with a thunder-like clap that startled metropolitan residents on the ground below.

The transcontinental flight from Ontario, Calif., to New York was along the same route followed in 1957 by the previous record-holder an Air Force Voodoo jet that covered the distance in 3 hours, 7 minutes.

Five Phantoms took over from Ontario at 7:59 a.m. PDT on the 2,445.9 mile hop to New York in the 20th renewal of the Bendix Trophy races. Tanker planes waited to refuel them over Albuquerque, N. M., St. Louis, Mo., and between Detroit and Pittsburgh.

One of the five planes encountered trouble over Albuquerque and dropped out of the race. A second was held up by refueling problems over Albuquerque and St. Louis and straggled into Floyd Bennet an hour 20 minutes behind the pacesetters.

Sharing the Bendix Trophy with Lt. Gordon was his radio-intercept officer, Lt. (jg) Bobbie R. Young, 34, of Modesto, Calif. Their average speed was the highest ever in the trophy races, that began in 1931 with James H. Doolittle setting an average mark of 223 m.p.h. between Los Angeles and Cleveland.

The two other craft that accompanied Lt. Gordon's finished in the unofficial time of 2 hours 57 minutes, and 3 hours 3 minutes. Lt. Gordon's time was certified as official by the Navy, subject to approval of international aviation authorities.

Rear Adm. Frank A. Brandley, assistant chief of naval operations for air, greeting the fliers here, pointed out that had Gordon flown in the opposite direction, he would have landed in California earlier than he took off from New York—because of the time differential.

Tractors Are Pledged

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt meets in Washington with Walter P. Reuther, UAW president, and Dr. Milton Eisenhower (right) as members of a citizens' group which will pledge 500 tractors to the Cuban government. Surrounding them are prisoners paroled by Premier Fidel Castro to negotiate for the release of 1214 persons captured in the recent rebel landings. Reuther said it was "an absolute necessity" that Cuba supply a list of prisoners and verify that they were captured in the April 17 invasion.

Kennedy Backs Campaign For Castro Prisoner Deal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Declaring a government hands-off policy, President Kennedy Wednesday urged Americans to contribute to the $15 million fund to buy tractors Fidel Castro has demanded for release of Cuban invasion prisoners.

At the same time, the White House revealed that Kennedy had helped organize the citizens group that is spearheading the fund drive.

The President's statement made it clear he considers there are no legal blocks to the deal, as some members of Congress have argued. But he emphasized:

"The United States government has not and cannot be a party to these negotiations."

Kennedy added that while the government is "putting forward neither obstacles nor assistance to this wholly private effort. I hope that all citizens will contribute what they can."

Among senators who have labeled Castro's demands as "blackmail" and decried any official sanction of the swap there were expressions of consternation at Kennedy's actions, although some had demanded that he take a stand.

Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee who has opposed any government sanction of the deal, told reporters:

"I didn't realize the President had taken such a personal interest in this project."

Sen. Homer E. Capehart, R-Ind., said: "I'm 100 per cent opposed to it. I think the President is wrong. We are setting a precedent for every big and little dictator around the world to blackmail us whenever he feels like it."

White House aides said Kennedy's main concern in helping organize the drive was to make sure that a single group supervised the effort.

Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., said he was disappointed because "I personally hate to see a cloak of respectability put on those demands of Castro."

"To accept the terms of a demagogue or tyrant is seldom wise," said Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, R-Mass.

Among those who backed Kennedy were Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., and Alexander Wiley, R-Wis.

President

Adolf Schaerf, president of Austria, probably will have Nikita Khrushchev and John F. Kennedy to dinner in Vienna's Hofburg Palace when the Soviet premier and American president meet in the Austrian capital for talks early in June.

College Student Shot By Fraternity Brother

CARLISLE, (AP)—A 21 year old Dickinson college Junior was accidentally shot and killed Wednesday by a fraternity brother with whom he had been hunting ground hogs.

He was Jerry W. Batstone, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Batstone, of Norwood, N.J.

State police said he was shot by Sheldon G. Thomas, 20, of Plymouth, Luzerne county, also a Junior, in a field about four miles northwest of Carlisle.

They said Thomas apparently was about 150 feet away from Batstone when he saw something move in one and one half feet high alfalfa and shot at it. Batstone had been lying prone with his gun in his hand.

Cumberland county Coroner Edward Haegele declared Batstone's death accidental.

Senate Committee Clears Bar Bill

HARRISBURG, (AP)—The Senate Law and Order committee Wednesday cleared for floor action a bill to permit bars to stay open until 2 a.m. Sundays.

Present law requires closing of public bars and taverns at midnight Saturday.

The committee also approved a measure to require persons winning nomination or election as write-in candidates to file loyalty oaths. The oaths already are required of persons seeking nomination or election on the regular ballot.

Uruguay Opens Tractor Campaign

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP) —A public subscription campaign was opened Wednesday to finance the purchase of tractors to be used in exchange for Cuban rebel prisoners.

The initiative was taken by a group of Montevideo newspaper editors who called upon the public to give generously in order to liberate Cubans captured in the recent invasion.

RED SKELTON SAYS GRAHAM PAID COHEN

Evangelist's Aide Says Quote Is Untrue

JERRY LEWIS SPEAKS IN TAX EVASION CASE

LOS ANGELES(AP)-Comedian Red Skelton testified Wednesday that Mickey Cohen once told him evangelist Billy Graham paid him $15,000 to sit in the audience at a revival meeting.

Skelton said the former mobster also told him Graham would have paid him $25,000 if he had converted to Christianity.

Skelton and comedian Jerry Lewis testified at Cohen's trial on charges of income tax evasion. Both told of dealings with Cohen over the proposal that a movie be made of the story of Cohen's life.

Billy Graham's name came out under questioning of Skelton by Asst. U. S. Atty. Tom Sheridan. Said Skelton: "He told me Graham paid him $15,000 to sit in the auditorium and said he would have gotten $25,000 if he had converted to Christianity."

(An aide in the Graham organization said the quote attributed to Cohen was "absolutely untrue.")

Skelton also explained that Cohen suggested he play the leading role in the proposed Cohen film. Lewis said he had loaned Cohen $5,000, without asking for collateral or interest.

Skelton, before testifying, noticed a file of prisoners being brought in chains for a hearing on another matter, and remarked to newsmen, "Well, I finally made 'The Untouchables'."

Skelton, asked if he'd had financial dealings with Cohen, testified, deadpan: "Yes, I have."

Then he added, with a smile: "But only as a taxpayer. I'm helping for this trial."

Skelton said Cohen called him one day and suggested that Skelton play the role of Cohen in the proposed movie.

Lewis testified that he had once considered giving teen-age singer Janet Shay a job on his TV show. Her father had testified earlier he loaned Cohen money to help arrange for the girl's appearance on the Lewis show.

Cohen claims he has lived on loans since he gave up being a gambler. The government contend he should have paid income taxes in keeping with his lavish mode of life.

Water Clerk Resigns, Submits Brief Notice

Emma Rose Hayes, a water department billing clerk since Feb. 6, 1959, resigned Wednesday in a one-line note handed Public Works Director Donald K. Jones.

She gave no reason for the resignation, which becomes effective next Wednesday. Miss Hayes lives at 770 North Franklin street.

The resignation was the second in the combined water and sewer departments since Friday. The resignation of Finance Director Ralph H. Thomas, who headed the department, became effective then.

Thomas was replaced by Jones. Applications for Miss Hayes job are now being accepted in the borough manager's office.

HEART

It might be better if the human heart had not received such a frivolous press over the years. Mooned over as a Valentine, hailed as the symbol of bravery and courage, this little organ forever thumping beneath the ribs frequently gets lost in a sentimental miasma of cliches and pretty words. Thus idealized, the heart seems far removed from its true function. To get to the heart of the matter, a medical dictionary describes it plainly as "the muscular organ that maintains the circulation of the blood." That's your heart, and no nonsense. Never at rest, except for a split second between beats, the heart that serves its owner for the Biblical span of three-score years and ten will achieve nearly three billion heartbeats. No wonder that hearts get tired and some hearts fail. But medical science holds to its relentless research into cardiac cause and effect. Heart-lung machines, the nearest approach to a man-made heart, can now take over the body's circulation for periods long enough to perform delicate surgery on a dry heart. To achieve better diagnosis before surgery, researchers are developing techniques to explore the heart's abnormalities with tiny catheters and needles and electrodes. Extremely fine needle tubing of stainless steel is required, tubing that we make right here at Superior and supply to the medical experimenters. Just the other day we received a letter from a surgeon working on heart research at the Tulane University School of Medicine thanking us for the tubing we had produced and sent him for his research. Out of the thousands of feet of tubing, of all sizes, we produce and ship right along, no order has given us greater satisfaction than these few feet of tiny tubing we gave to Tulane in the interest of that amazing organ, the human heart.

Legionnaires Will Sponsor Baseball Teams

EAST GREENVILLE—Victor Stahl, Phone OR 9-7264. Miller's News Agency, Del., Phone OR 9-7467.

A baseball program to afford an opportunity for well-organized recreation for some 50 boys in the Upper Perkiomen area, has been outlined by Perkiomen post 184, American Legion, for the Summer.

Three teams will be sponsored this year with the Junior Legion team, for 16-18 year olds, headlining the program.

A sixteen-game schedule will be played with Lansdale, Perkasie, Quakertown and Souderton against Perkiomen in the Bux-Mont league. The Legionnaires under manager Carl Wahl will open the season on June 8 when Quakertown will visit the Perkiomen school diamond on Seminary street, scene of all eight home games.

Two teams for boys in the 13-15 age group, will play in the six-team Perkiomen Valley Connie Mack league with Skippack, Schwenksville, Perkiomen township, and Oaks. Lamar Sell will coach the Phillies with homes games to be played on the same Seminary street field while Francis Roncace will handle the Yankees who will use the Green Lane school ground. A Phillies-Yankee game will open the season on June 7 on the Phillies home field.

A MEETING for candidates of all three teams has been called for Wednesday at 7 p.m., on the high school parking lot. The session, to include announcement of practice dates and player distribution, will be rain or shine.

New uniforms, ordered several weeks ago for the Junior Legion team, are expected to be available for the season opener. The Legion baseball committee, in an effort to raise funds, has arranged for a benefit movie show. The show will feature films primarily for children.

Pastor, Layman Will Attend EUB Conference

EAST GREENVILLE—Victor Stahl, Phone OR 9-7264. Miller's News Agency, Del., Phone OR 9-7467.

J. Wright Sacks, lay delegate, and the Rev. Carl Gookley, pastor of the Milford EUB charge, will attend the annual conference of the EUB denomination on June 7-8 at Albright college, Reading.

A used clothing drive including shoes and bedding, has been opened by the New Goshenhoppen UCC congregation. Items may be brought daily to St. John's chapel. Elsie Keck heads the project.

The 143 members of the Upper Perkiomen High Senior class will make their annual class trip Monday to New York City. Albert Neiman and Mrs. Jeanette Bold are class advisors.

The Perkiomen post baseball program will be organized at a meeting of managers and players, May 31, at 7 p.m., on the high school parking lot. Carl Wahl heads the baseball committee assisted by I. V. Stahl and Raymond Fluck.

New Aircraft Uses Bat-shaped Wings

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — A new, kite-like concept for aircraft has been flown successfully in a prototype made by Ryan Aeronautical Co., the company said.

The flexible, bat-shaped wings of plastic-coated nylon carried a platform holding the pilot and a 100-h.p. engine, turning a pusher propeller.

The design, because of the flexible wings, is called flex wing. Ryan said the wing may be made of other materials, such as fine wire mesh, for use under conditions of high speed and temperature.

Congressman Will Speak At Memorial Rites

EAST GREENVILLE—Victor Stahl, Phone OR 9-7264. Miller's News Agency, Del., Phone OR 9-7467.

The annual observance of Memorial day Tuesday, sponsored jointly by Perkiomen post 184, American Legion and Perkionmen Valley post 5954, Veterans of Foreign Wars, promises to be one of the most impressive in recent years.

Congressman Richard S. Schweiker, of the 13th district, Montgomery county, is scheduled to deliver the main address during the rites at St. Mark's Union cemetery, Pennsburg, at 10:45 a. m.

A parade, to form at the old Legion home on North Main street, East Greenville, will precede the cemetery program to include special music, the traditional volley of the firing squad, and appropriate recognition of departed comrades. Commanders Arnold Ashenfelter of the Legion group, and Frank J. Romeo, VFW, will have charge of the program.

The parade, with Richard Treffinger as marshal, will form by 9:45 a. m., in preparation to the march to the cemetery. Four musical units will participate and will form on Fifth street, toward Upper Perkiomen High school. The Red Hill band, Robert Marshman, conductor, will lead the parade. Vincent Bercher, director of the UPHS instrumental program, will lead the Senior High, the Junior High, and a combined elementary band.

IN THE LINE of march will be representative groups of the two sponsoring veterans organizations, their auxiliaries, community officials and Scout groups will form on Fifth street, East of Main street, toward Washington street.

The paraders will countermarch from the cemetery to the Legion home where refreshments will be served to marchers. In case of rain, the parade and cemetery rites will be canceled but a program will be in St. Mark's Lutheran church at 10:30 a. m.

Century Club Speaker Tells How to Go 'Round the World on Ten Dollars a Day

By ESTHER GRAY
(Mercury Society Editor)

How a woman traveling alone may go 'round the world on a budget of $10 a day was described for members of Century club at their closing luncheon in the Elks dining room.

With completely feminine logic, the speaker Mrs. Alfred Clark Arnold, Philadelphia, explained the more time the trip takes, the less its daily cost; for the greatest expense is the cost of transport from the United States to the first spot to be visited on another continent and the trip home. Divide that by the number of days you travel and the expense is small. Her journey lasted nine months.

She also pointed out one must buy food at home or abroad so travel in foreign countries is a possibility for any woman who has good health, plenty of time, a real interest in people and adaptability.

Mrs. Arnold advisted routing the first big jump through a local travel agent but after that to depend on tourist agencies in the various countries. Over there, tourism is big business; they are set up for it.

She avoided deluxe restaurants and thereby found queer and interesting places. However she ate and drank only in places recommended by the agencies, "They can't afford to let tourists get sick," Mrs. Arnold commented.

Travelers should be willing to accept manners and customs of other peoples, go along with them and find them wonderful. In that way they are real ambassadors of good will for their homeland.

"Too many people of other nations know Americans only as rushing through the country by busloads, criticizing and demanding the best," Mrs. Arnold noted sadly.

Traveling alone, she found, was an opportunity to let others know what an American woman is like as an individual. The color slides of her travels showed it also is an opportunity to see many places off the beaten track.

Her tour abroad began in the Orient where she visited Manilla, Hong Kong, Formosa, Japan, Korea, India and Ceylon. Her slides, over and over in each country, showed the modern facade of buildings, erected in great part since World War Two, behind which the natives live and conduct their lives in ways that are centuries old.

Dress in the various countries also showed the meeting of the East and West. Colorful traditional costumes and the drab Western dress rub shoulders in the streets of Korea to the temple courtyards of Bombay.

Also noticeable was the presence of the YWCA and YMCA in the various cities. Only her slides of the far East were shown, for one can't project a trip that covered 28,000 miles, in an hour.

Mrs. Arnold advised, "when you travel use your money to buy memories, not things."

Mrs. Hugh A. McDevitt, completing the first year of her two year term as president, presided at the Wednesday afternoon affair. A past president, Mrs. Leon W. Swavely offered the opening prayer.

The president introduced officers and board members and also presented past presidents, Mrs. David Todd Jones, Mrs. Russell H. Shelly, Mrs. Carson C. Potter, Mrs. John A. Barlow, Mrs. Richard G. Leh and Mrs. Jack R. Wennersten.

Reports were given by Mrs. Stanley S. Gates, cheer chairman; Mrs. Leonard Huff, ways and means chairman; Mrs. Stephen Lloyd, program chairman, and Helen Borneman, who reported in the absence of membership chairman Mrs. Walter R. Neiman.

Mrs. Wennersten reported for the auditing committee. Mrs. Barlow and Mrs. Lloyd reported on the Pennsylvania State Federation of Women's clubs convention they and Mrs. McDevitt attended in Harrisburg. Mrs. McDevitt gave her report for the year.

Mrs. Leonard R. Saylor and Mrs. Paul Duttenhofer were accepted into active membership.

Mrs. McDevitt installed Mrs. Joseph A. Pereni as treasurer and Mrs. Earl Kerstetter and Mrs. Barlow as new members of the board of directors.

Other new officers, to be installed in the Fall, are Mrs. J. Paul Nunemaker, recording secretary; Mrs. William A. Schultz, corresponding secretary and Mrs. Paul Emrich, director.

Mrs. Chester H. Bechtel, accompanied by Mrs. Wennersten at the piano, sang the "Collect for Club Women" to conclude the affair.

Table centerpieces of Spring flowers were arranged by Mrs. Potter. Mrs. Barlow was in charge of luncheon arrangements.

Albitz-Gross Rites Performed in Boyertown Church

Joan Gross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick M. Gross, New Berlinville, became the bride of Warren Albitz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Albitz, Pennsburg RD, in Good Shepherd Reformed church, Boyertown.

The Rev. Harper Schneck officiated at the double ring ceremony performed Sunday at 2 p. m.

The bride chose a floor length gown of lace and organza. The dress was styled with a lace bodice, sabrina neckline, wrist pointed sleeves and a tiered skirt. She chose a coronet head piece with shoulder length veil and carried a prayer book topped with a white orchid.

Linda Gehman, Morysville, was maid of honor. She wore an aqua ensemble trimmed with bows, a matching crown headpiece and a corsage of yellow roses.

Larry Acker, Pennsburg, was best man.

Mother of the bride, Mrs. Gross wore a green dress with black accessories. Mrs. Albitz, mother of the bridegroom, chose a floral print dress with black accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of carnations.

A reception followed at the American Legion home, Boyertown. When the couple left for a week long honeymoon to an undisclosed destination, the new Mrs. Albitz was wearing a blue dress with white accessories. Upon return, they will reside at the home of the bride's parents.

The new Mrs. Albitz is a graduate of Boyertown High school. Both principals are employed at the Boyertown Casket company.

Designer Advises Cleanliness for That Elegant Look

Top American Designer Norman Norell, of the house of TrainaNorell, has this advice for those who want to achieve an elegant, "Grace Kelly look" on a tiny budget.

First of all, says Mr. Norell, be immaculately clean and well-scrubbed. Then, invest in one good dress instead of several inferior ones. He feels that a really good dress can be worn and worn, even after it starts looking a bit shabby, and still retain its look of elegance.

He also recommends that universally recognized mark of a lady — clean white cotton gloves. Mr. Norell suggests buying two pairs — one to wear and a spotless spare!

The Point Spread...

By WARREN HOWARD
(Mercury Sports Writer)

THE LATEST WAVE OF COLLEGE basketball scandals continues to grow almost daily, and the de-emphasis of the program has begun, with effects that are already being felt, not only on the college level, but also on the scholastic.

Already legislation has been introduced in Harrisburg that would put an end to night sports on the scholastic level. The proposed legislation would call for no sporting event to begin after 6 p.m.

MORRIE GRIGG

Patrons of Pottstown High sports have—in the past—demonstrated a preference for night sports, particularly football. In fact, when faced with the possibility of giving up one night game, fans requested that the entire series be dropped.

And while it appears that the de-emphasis movement is already under way, many people feel that de-emphasis is not the answer, because it would deprive many deserving youngsters of a chance to further their education.

IT IS FOR this reason that Morrell E. Grigg made a suggestion at a Ches-Mont league meeting earlier this week, that comes a lot closer to solving the situation. At least, it seems so from this angle.

Grigg proposed a clinic, or a series of clinics, to be held in the high schools sometime during the school year. They would cover not only college athletics, but "general behavior of the student in college," said Grigg.

Not only pupils, but parents as well, would be invited. One, or possibly several college coaches would be on hand, along with other persons connected with colleges, to give talks.

The youngsters and their parents would thus be able to glean some first-hand knowledge of big-time athletics, the pitfalls in which the athlete could become ensnared, and the general college outlook.

AS MENTIONED BEFORE, the clinics would not be limited to athletes only. All prospective college students would be invited, and thus be informed, beforehand, of things that are expected of him in college.

As far as the accent on de-emphasis, if the college program goes, can the scholastic be far behind? The scholastic varsity sports program in Pennsylvania has been under fire for sometime now, and the latest college scandals can only bring scholastic sports into sharper focus.

One goes along with the opposition to de-emphasis. Our college athletics are the highest form of amateur athletics in the Country. They are the best we have to offer. They can remain so only with the groundwork as laid on the scholastic level.

Also, it is only in the heat of actual combat that the young man learns readily how to respond to the challenge, and not in some intramural contest, which means little. Intramural athletics are for those who wish to "relax," or get a little exercise.

AND RIGHT NOW, we need our amateur athletics, perhaps more than we ever did before. We need them to maintain our National prestige. We say this is of little concern to us in little Pottstown, but we're wrong.

The scholastic sport—particularly basketball—has also been in the public eye of late, due to a pair of incidents in which spectators engaged in post-game violence. Scholastic basketball games have long been played in the afternoon in Philadelphia.

Of note however, was a recent decision in Detroit, Mich., to return the city's schools to the State athletic association, in which they could compete for State championships, etc.

No date has been set yet for any of the clinics, but parents of college-age sons and daughters could aid it by endorsing such a move. It only takes a letter or a phone call to Grigg.

Finley Puts Rein on Lane Trades

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Charles Finley, owner of the Kansas City Athletics, Wednesday stripped his general manager, Frank Lane, of some of his trading authority after ordering his field manager, Joe Gordon, to take Jim Archer from the bull pen and make him a starting pitcher.

Gordon said this interference with his pitching schedule may have had an important bearing on the Athletics' 7-3 loss to the Washington Senators Tuesday night.

He was forced to change his late inning strategy, he said, because he no longer had Archer as a relief pitcher.

Finley's ukase on the trading stipulated that henceforth he alone would give final approval on all trades and that under no circumstances would there be any trades with the New York Yankees this year.

Lane has said he would trade with the Yankees "if I thought we could get a player who would help us. It was only a one-way street before. I want to make it go both ways."

WOODS, SMITH HOMERS PACE 7-1 TRIUMPH

Nottebart, Drabowsky Suffer Brunt of 8-Hit Burst

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Young Art Mahaffey turned in a masterful mound performance for Philadelphia Wednesday night, holding Milwaukee to four scattered hits as his mates staged a six-run rally in the fourth inning that led to a 7-1 Phillie victory over the Braves.

The 22-year-old right-hander, who was called up by the Phillies from Buffalo in midseason last year, struck out five men and issued three walks in subduing the Braves. The victory was Mahaffey's fifth against three defeats this season.

The Phillies clobbered two Milwaukee hurlers, including starter and loser Don Nottebart, for six runs in the fourth inning after Jim Woods hit a solo homer in the third to put Philadelphia out in front.

Pancho Herrera opened the big fourth with a double and went to third on Tony Gonzalez's single. Charley Smith then cleared the bases with a three-run homer. When Clay Dalrymple followed with a single, Moe Drabowsky replaced Nottebart on the mound for Milwaukee.

Woods promptly greeted Drabowsky with a single, Dalrymple stopping at second. Mahaffey sacrificed and both runners advanced. Bob Malkmus then laced a triple that scored two more runs. Malkmus subsequently came in on an infield out for the final Phillie run of the inning.

The Braves got their only run in the last half of the fourth when Frank Bolling tripled and came home on Hank Aaron's sacrifice fly.

Bergey Resigns Bowling Office After 12 Years

Henry E. Bergey resigned as secretary treasurer of the Pottstown Bowling association at the organization's annual meeting held at West End Fire company Wednesday night.

Bergey held the post since 1949 and was presented a diamond necktie tac by the organization. The vacated position was the only office that required a vote as all other candidates were re-elected unopposed. Malcom DeWitt replaces Bergey.

R. Edwin Kirk was elected to his 19th term as association president. Close to 100 members also elected six vice presidents who included Douglas Ludwig, Edward Lucas, Clarence Sell and Joseph Stitzel.

Five members were elected executive directors. Pat Rohrbach, Ernest Minotto, Robert Yergey, Raymond Gofus, and Robert Hildebrand will hold down these positions.

Trophies were awarded the winners of the association sponsored City Bowling tournament. The high team trophy went to Builders' Supply.

Lou Mack and George Bolognese copped the doubles title. The high single award went to Leroy Thomas. High single game honors went to Harry Kehs. All Events champion was Ulysses Sevast.

GEORGE WINS BY 60½ - 56½ WITH 'DEPTH'

Betancourt, Guarneri Set Mile, 880 Records

PHILADELPHIA — Mike Gazo captured three first places and Jere Stauffer another pair here Wednesday, but were unable to stave off Perkiomen Prep's fourth dual meet track loss, 60½-56½ to George.

In addition, Luis Betancourt and Nick Guarneri established new school records in the mile and 880-yard runs as the Preps took eight of the 13 first places and tied for another.

But the George school depth proved too much for the Pennsburg unit to overcome.

Betancourt stepped off the mile run in 4:44.6 to shave 1.4 seconds off Fred Paetz' 4:46.0 of 1957.

GUARNERI WON the half-mile in 2:05.9, erasing Grayson Moore's 1958 mark of 2:07 flat.

Stauffer meanwhile, won the 100-yard dash in 10.7 seconds, then led a Perkiomen sweep in the 220-yards, which he won in 23.8 seconds.

Teammates David Brown and Betancourt followed Stauffer to the wire.

Gazo won all three weight events, with a 47-foot, 6-inch shot put, a 112-foot, 9-inch discus toss and a 155-foot, 4-inch throw in the javelin.

The Preps — who have won three dual meets this year while losing four—also took the 440-yard dash and Mike Givler tied Steve Dummer of George for first place in the high jump at 5 feet, 6½ inches.

PIAA Track Crowns on Line Saturday

UNIVERSITY PARK (AP)—The cream of Pennsylvania's scholastic track and field talent will be in University Park this weekend to decide the 1961 championships.

A total of 711 athletes from 184 different high schools were registered for competition in the PIAA class A and B events.

The track and field events will be run off Saturday. The PIAA golf and tennis championship play will extend over two days, starting Friday.

The defending track champions are District 1, which won the Class A title last year on the strength of Haverford's 13 points and Norristown's 12 points; and District 3, which captured the B title on showings of 23 points by Columbia and 15 points by Cornwall.

* * *

SOME INDIVIDUAL champions from last year will be on hand to defend their titles.

Don Webster of Kennett Consolidated, who won the 220-yard dash and the quarter-mile, and Tom Bedick of Moon township, winner of the half-mile running event will be back.

Howard Goldsworthy of Ridley township, who heaved the shot put 56 feet five and a quarter inches for the 1960 title, will compete again this year.

Goldsworthy's latest mark was 57 feet four and a quarter inches in the District 1 championships. The State record is 57 feet four inches, set by Tom Urbanik in 1959.

The 1960 runner-up in the B division also will be back for the State shot put competition. He is Dick Hart of Morrisville, who set a record of 57 feet 10 inches last year and won the District 1 title this Spring with a toss of 62 feet.

Sunset Pharmacy took advantage of six Whiz Kids' errors Wednesday night, coupled them with 10 hits and rocked the Kids, 8-4 in a City Softball league tilt at Memorial park.

The Druggists rode the five-hit pitching of Bill "Pickles" Graham (0-2) to the victory, their third without a loss. It enabled the winners to pull all alone into the league lead again.

George Levengood drove in two runs for the winners, who fell behind when the Whiz Kids scored three times in the third inning.

The winners roared back in the home third to go ahead, 5-3 however, and were never headed.

THE WHIZ KIDS benched John Karpinski, the league's leading hitter with five bingles in his last five trips.

Endy allowed five hits, walked nobody and fanned seven to gain his second win against no losses.

Indians Win 7-1 On Bell 4-Hitter

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Right-hander Gary Bell pitched a brilliant four-hitter Wednesday night as the Cleveland Indians defeated the Los Angeles Angels 7-1 before 5,536 in Wrigley Field.

Angel Leon Wagner's home run into the center field bleacher in the seventh inning, only the second hit at that point for Los Angeles, robbed Bell of a shutout.

It was Wagner's ninth homer of the year.

Catcher John Romano hit a home run for Cleveland in the second to start the scoring. There was no one on. It was his fourth of the season.

Skowron, Kubek Hitting Paces Yanks Over Bosox

NEW YORK (AP)—Bill Skowron snapped out of a hitting slump Wednesday with a ninth inning triple and scored on a two-out, bases-loaded single by Tony Kubek to give the New York Yankees a 3-2 triumph over the Boston Red Sox.

Skowron's hit, his second of the game, set up the second victory of the year for right-hander Ralph Terry, who went the distance for the first time this season.

Gene Conley started for the Red Sox but the loss was charged to Chet Nichols, a southpaw who took over for Conley in the eighth after the Red Sox had tied the score 2-2 in the top half of the inning on a home run by Gary Geiger.

Nichols got the first man he faced in the ninth but Skowron sent a long drive over Geiger's head in deep center. With a runner on third, Boston Manager Mike Higgins summoned right-hander Tracy Stallard from the bullpen. The relief pitcher walked Cletis Boyer intentionally and also pinch hitter Bob Cerv on four pitches to fill the bases.

Mickey Mantle, on the bench because of a pulled groin muscle, batted for Terry and, after working the count to 3-2, struck out for the second out. Stallard had a 2-2 count on Kubek when the Yankee shortstop lined a single to right for the game's winning blow.

The Red Sox, held to three hits by Terry, took a 1-0 lead in the fourth inning on a walk, Jackie Jensen's double and Russ Nixon's sacrifice fly. The Yankees came back with two in their half of the fourth on a walk and Roger Maris' homer, his eighth of the season.

TIGERS EDGE TWINS BY 5-4

Kaline, Colavito Homers Earn Mossi 5th Triumph

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Home runs by Al Kaline and Rocky Colavito carried the American League-leading Detroit Tigers to a 5-4 victory over the Minnesota Twins Wednesday night.

Kaline's scond hom run in two nights and Colavito's two-run homer in the fifth, his 11th of the year, helped Don Mossi to his fifth season victory. He has not lost a game.

Mossi needed relief from Bill Fischer, who disappointed the 24,358 fans by ending a seventh inning Twins' rally. Fischer came in with two on and no one out and got Harmon Killebrew to hit into a double play and Jim Lemon to strike out. Killebrew narrowed the margin to one run with his 11th season homer, a two-run blast in the ninth. But Fischer fanned Lemon again.

Twins' starter Camilo Pascual (4-4) had a string of 20 consecutive scoreless innings until Kaline's homer. The Tiger right-fielder also delivered two singles and drove in another run.

LIKE YOU AND I—Taking a break in training at Haines Falls, N.Y., Guilio Rinaldi, the Italian lightheavy champ, goes in for that old American snack, a soft drink and a hot dog. Rinaldi meets the World's champ, Archie Moore, for the title June 10 in New York.

Moore, Rinaldi Ink June Title Bout Pacts

NEW YORK (AP) — Archie Moore breezed into town Wednesday, weighing "in the 180s" and predicted Giulio Rinaldi will see "more of Moore" June 10 than when the Italian beat Archie last October in Rome.

"I'm not going to underrate Mr. Rinaldi," said ancient Archie. "I will do my level best to win and to win by a knockout because a knockout in a championship match looks so nice on television."

Moore's share of the World light - heavyweight title (he is recognized in New York, Massachusetts and Europe and Harold Johnson is the National Boxing association champ) will be at stake in the Madison Square garden match with Rinaldi.

The Italian won a decision over Archie last Oct. 29 in an over-the-weight bout.

THE SIGNED the official contracts for the 15-round match Wednesday in the offices of the New York State athletic commission after Archie had applied for renewal of his license.

Moore gets a $100,000 guarantee or 40 percent of the receipts including TV, plus $12,000 training expenses. Rinaldi gets a $25,000 guarantee and his transportation from Italy.

Moore was the star of a luncheon meeting. Rinaldi was at somewhat of a disadvantage because he speaks no English. Archie was at his forensic best.

"I am pleased to be here again—after 25 years," Moore said with a smile. He last fought in the Garden in 1952 but he boxed Rocky Marciano and Bobo Olson outdoors in 1955.

"THE LAST time we fought was on kind of pro-Rinaldi grounds," he went on. "I found Rinaldi difficult to tag. When he found I had lost some of my bite, he stepped up the pace and came on like a steamroller. He won the last two or three rounds and influenced the referee. I couldn't speak Italian and the referee made me take a count I didn't want to take.

But let by gones be by gones. I hold no malice toward Rinaldi or the judges. If he wins a decision over me I will be the first to run to his corner and congratulate him. If I knock him out, I will be the first to render first aid."

He closed his former speech by recalling an inscription he had read on a tombstone in Tombstone, Ariz.

"What you are, I once was. What I am now, you soon will be. Remember me."

Triandos, Hansen Blows Pace Sweep For Orioles Over Chisox, 2-1, 5-3

BALTIMORE (AP)—Late inning home runs by Gus Triandos and Ron Hansen enabled the Baltimore Orioles to sweep a twi-night doubleheader from the Chicago White Sox Wednesday night, 2-1 and 5-3.

Triandos slugged a lead-off homer in the seventh inning of the opener, his fifth of the season, to break a 1-1 tie and preserve Hal Brown's six-hit pitching performance.

Hansen walloped a three-run homer in the eighth inning of the night - cap as Baltimore again came from behind to overtake the slumping White Sox who have won only 14 of 37 games.

The homer by Hansen, his fourth of the year, was yielded by Gerry Staley—the fourth Chicago pitcher and third of the inning. But the loss went to Frank Baumann, who was removed from the game after making just one pitch and giving up a single to Jim Gentile.

Chicago jumped on Oriole starter Dick Hall for one unearned run in the first inning of the nightcap and added two more in the third on a double by pitcher Russ Kemmerer, a single by Jim Landis, a sacrifice fly by Nellie Fox and a run-scoring single by Wes Covington.

The Orioles rallied for two runs in the sixth on a double by Russ Snyder, his third hit of the game, a single by Gentile, a walk, and a single by Gene Stephens.

Wes Stock received credit for the victory, allowing three hits and striking out five over the final 6 1-3 innings after reliving Hall.

The only run off Brown in the opener was unearned. It came in the fourth inning on a single by Fox, a sacrifice, an infield out and a two-out passed ball by Triandos.

Baltimore tied the score in the fifth off loser Bob Shaw on two singles and a sacrifice fly by Jerry Adair.

KIRBY HURLS 8-4 VICTORY

Coventryville-Cedarville Tops Brethren for 1st Win

Coventry-Cedarville scored five times in a big third inning Wednesday, and whipped Coventry Brethren, 8-4 in a Church league tilt at Memorial park.

The winners however, had to throttle a budding Coventry Brethren rally in the fifth inning, to clinch the win. The game was called after five innings because of darkness.

Dale Kirby went the route on a five-hitter to record the mound victory, and aided his own cause with two hits in three trips, driving in one run.

Larry Beidler and Ralph Moses each had a pair of hits for the winners, each driving in two runs.

KIRBY HAD a shutout going into the home fifth, when the losers exploded for their four tallies. He fanned seven and walked a pair.

The winners hopped on Hal Schweitzer for 10 hits and all eight runs during his four-inning tenure. He fanned four and walked two before giving way to Jim Reigner, who shut out the winners on two hits in the final inning.

The victory boosted Coventryville-Cdearville into a first place tie with Kimberton Lutheran and St. James, who won opening games.

Clemente, Stuart HRs Pace Bucs' Romp, 7-3

CHICAGO (AP) — Roberto Clemente hit two homers and Dick Stuart one as Vinegar Bend Mizell won his 14th of the past 15 decisions from the Cubs, pitching Pittsburgh to a 7-3 victory over Chicago Wednesday.

Mizell was unable to finish, but veteran Clem Labine worked flawlessly to save the big southpaw's fourth win of the year. Labine retired seven straight batters.

The Cubs combed Mizell for 11 hits. Rookie outfielder Billy Williams poled his second homer in as many games, and the Cubs' new shortstop, Jerry Kindall, smashed his first of the season.

Gino Cimoli's infield roller scored Stuart, who had tripled, with the Pirates' first run off losing starter Dick Ellsworth in the second inning.

Jackson Hurls, Bats Cards to 7-2 Victory

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Larry Jackson pitched and batted the St. Louis Cardinals to a 7-2 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers Wednesday night.

He had to have ninth inning help from Lindy McDaniel after the Dodgers loaded the bases on Junior Gilliam's single and two walks. McDaniel fanned Tommy Davis to end it.

Jackson, who picked up his first triumph in four decisions, delivered a key two-out, two-run double in the sixth inning. The Cards led 3-2 at the start of the inning after Jackson steadied to pitch out of a jam in the top of the frame.

Lumpe Walks in 9th With Bases Loaded

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Pete Burnside walked Jerry Lumpe with the bases loaded in the ninth inning Wednesday night and the Kansas City Athletics edged the Washington Senators 6-5.

The victory ended a five-game losing streak for the A's and came in a see-saw, error-studded battle that ruined lefty Jim Archer's second pitching start for the A's. Archer was elevated from the bullpen to the starting rotation on direct orders of owner Charley Finley and he gave up only one earned run in the seven innings he worked.

Errors by third basemen Lou Klimchock and Wayne Causey contributed three unearned runs before Archer departed for a pinch hitter as the A's scored twice in the seventh to tie the score at 4-all.

The Senators took advantage of some further weird infield play in the eighth inning to go ahead 5-4 against reliever Bill Kunkel who eventually was credited with the victory.

Coot Veal's drag bunt scored Harry Bright who had led off the inning with a single.

Smoker Tops Leventhal In Gross Golf by 2-up

Jim Smoker, the surprise of the Steve Gross Memorial golf tournament, eliminated varsity performer Harris Leventhal, 2-up over the 18-hole route in a second round match Wednesday.

The tournament — named in honor of a former Pottstown High golfer who died of cancer — had seen Smoker eliminate Gary Brauner in a first-round match.

Other first-round events saw John Pfeffer defeat Pat Grady 5 and 4, and Andrew Katch top Pat Hart, 4 and 2.

Owen J. Roberts Is 10-1 Winner

Owen J. Roberts Junior High school finished it's best season in the school's young history with a 10-1 win over Boyertown at Bucktown, on Wednesday.

The five hit pitching of Wayne Wisler along with some good hitting on the part of Gary Anderson and Bill Scherfel assured the Wildcats of their seventh win against one loss.

Anderson reached base on an error, stole second and scored on Scherfel's single to give the Wildcats a lead they never lost. Boyertown's only run of the game came in the fourth.

Ken Dunmore reached base on an error. The next two batters Dennis Repperd and Gene Bruber were also safe on miscues. Dunmore scored on Bob Stitzels fielders choice play.

Roberts sewed up the game in the fourth with a four run uprising. Dave Wallace and Russ Tyson got back to back singles. Anderson followed with a triple scoring Wallace and Tyson. Scherfel then powdered a home run to right field.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A RICH IOWA FARMER was such a hi-fi enthusiast that he insisted on taking some elaborate hi-fi equipment with him on a European tour. His favorite platter recorded a variety of railroad sounds—whistles, chuffs and clangs. He had just played it full blast in his stateroom in mid-ocean when a female voice in the next cabin was heard. "You idiot," screamed the lady in said cabin. "My first sea trip to Europe—and you have to pick out a stateroom next to a railroad yard!"

U.S. Designers Back Jackie's Hem Line Choice

NEW YORK (AP) — American designers are raising more than just an indignant brow over an Italian couturier's suggestion that Mrs. John R. Kennedy bares entirely too much of her knees.

And, yes, they admit pride has a lot to do with it.

"I hope the Italian girls look half as good," says Larry Aldrich president of the New York couture group.

"I think Mrs. Kennedy is perfect in tone and taste all the time," says Oleg Cassini, who, as the first lady's official designer, is responsible for her hem lines.

Cassini had a suggestion for Emilio Schuberth, the leading Italian designer who cast the critical glance at Mrs. Kennedy's knees.

"Let him do the work, if he thinks he can do it better," Cassini said Tuesday.

Inside You And Yours

By BURTON H. FERN, M.D.

When Your Heart Fails

HOW LONG can you live with heart failure?

Possibly years!

Heart failure simply means failure to pump all the blood needed. Even healthy hearts fail if they're forced beyond their limit.

Actually, you have two hearts working side by side. One receives blue "used" blood and pumps it to the lungs. From the lungs, rich red blood flows into the other to be pumped to all parts of the body.

Dr. Fern

Either heart may fail first, but eventually both tucker out. If the heart — which pumps fresh blood throughout the body—fails, rich red blood is dammed back into large veins in the lungs. Kidneys slow down and salt and water swell the circulation.

Like Highways

Meanwhile, blue blood is still being pumped into the lungs. Here, bulging arteries and veins resemble highways with bumper-to-bumper traffic.

You can't catch your breath. Exercise makes you pant. One flight of stairs seems like climbing Mt. Everest heights.

The congestion increases when you lie flat and so you may have to sleep sitting up.

Bluish veins bulge throughout the rest of the body when the other heart fails. Salty fluid soon swells liver, legs and abdomen. Overnight, gravity shifts the swelling to your back and so shoes that fit in the morning are too small by afternoon.

Heart failure can often be controlled or cured.

What You Can Do

You may cure yourself by cutting down on pretzels, ham and other salty foods. Your doctor may prescribe pills to flush salt through the kidneys. Digitalis-like drugs can give your heart a new force.

Yes, you can live with heart failure — often for years! If you're overweight, cut calories and paste a poison label on that salt shaker.

Eat sensibly. You don't want to eat your heart out!

Dr. Fern's mailbox is wide open for letters from readers. While he cannot undertake to answer individual letters, he will use readers' questions in his column whenever possible and when they are of general interest. Address your letters to Dr. Fern in care of The Mercury.

Hammerstein's Widow Unveils Plaque

LONDON (AP)—Mrs. Dorothy Hammerstein, widow of lyricist Oscar Hammerstein, unveiled a plaque to his memory in Southwark Cathedral Wednesday.

The service was attended by about 30 members of the London cast of "The Sound of Music," the last work written by Hammerstein in collaboration with composer Richard Rodgers. Mr. and Mrs. Rodgers attended the ceremony.

Much of the dedicatory service was taken over by the cathedral choir. Hammerstein's will provided 2,000 pounds—$5,600—to support two choirboys at Southwark Cathedral. They are called the Hammerstein Chanters.

Rainiers Spend Two Hours Visiting With Kennedys

* * * * * *

PRINCE, PRINCESS RAINIER

* * * * * *

WASHINGTON (AP)—Princess Grace and Prince Rainier III of Monaco spent two "thoroughly delightful" hours with President and Mrs. Kennedy at the White House Wednesday.

The beautiful princess — movie queen Grace Kelly before her story-book marriage to the prince —gave that description of their visit as they bade farewell to the Kennedys.

The President and Mrs. Kennedy escorted the prince and princess to their limousine parked outside the office section of the White House.

Prince Rainier said he and the princess had a "most pleasant and very informal" time with the President and first lady.

"We enjoyed it thoroughly," he said.

The prince called their visit "a great pleasure and honor" which was "thoroughly delightful in every way."

The prince and princess had lunch with the Kennedys and seven other guests. They came to see former President Dwight D. Eisenhower three years ago.

The princess wore a white petalled turban to go with her two-piece lime dress with bolero jacket. She had a mesh gold band around her neck and a gold bracelet. She carried a black purse and wore elbow-length white kid gloves.

Mrs. Kennedy, in her favorite style, wore a black-ribbed silk dress with overblouse.

The first lady escorted the prince and princess around the White House and into the office area after lunch. The President had gone directly from the luncheon table to his office, but came out to see the royal couple off.

Mrs. Kennedy gave Princess Grace several small toys for her children. The royal couple has one daughter, Caroline—the same name as the Kennedy's oldest child,—and a son, Albert. Their Caroline is 4 years old, the Kennedy's is 3—and Albert is 3.

The prince and princess headed back to Philadelphia — Princess Grace's home town. After several more days with her family, they plan to go to New York and leave for Monaco on or about next Tuesday.

King Hussein's Bride-To-Be May Not Appear At Wedding

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — King Hussein announced Wednesday his British bride will be neither queen nor princess of this desert kingdom. And she may not even be present at the wedding ceremony Thursday.

An official source said the 25-year-old king declared in a letter to Premier Benjat Talhouni that he and his fiancee, Tony Averil Gardiner, 20, "do not care for the position or the title" of queen.

Hussein appeared to be bowing to the ruffled feelings of his 1.4 million Moslem subjects. Many have expressed opposition to being ruled by a non-Arab queen and his decision was not unexpected.

Miss Gardiner, daughter of a British army officer, "wishes to be called simply Muna al Hussein without any title or position," the letter stated. Miss Gardiner adopted the Islamic religion and the name Muna al Hussein, which means "Hussein's wish."

* * *

The premier replied the name "will be a good omen for us," the informant said, adding that the bride's title will be "Sahibat Al Sown Wa Al Isma." Loosely translated, the phrase means "her gracious ladyship."

A spokesman said wedding details were not fixed, but according to Moslem tradition the King may sign a wedding certificate in Zahran Palace without his bride present.

This procedure was followed in Hussein's first wedding to queen Dina, whom he divorced in 1957.

Newspapers said the private ceremony will be performed by Sheik Hama Al Arabi, director general of the Moslem courts and Jordan's No. 2 religious leader. His superior is on a pilgrimage to Mecca.

Men only will be invited to Hussein's wedding reception and even the bride might not appear, an official source said.

Judge Approves Swimming Pool

PHILADELPHIA, (AP) — Orphan's Court Judge Harold D. Saylor Wednesday approved a petition by Frankie Avalon asking release of $6275 to build his parents a swimming pool.

Avalon will be 21 in four months, but his guardian, Peter Ierardi, told the Court the singer wanted the pool built so it could be enjoyed this Summer.
